

The Last Acquisition

A detailed marble lion statue is the central focus, positioned in a museum-like setting with red velvet ropes and a dark background. In the foreground, there are several items: a photograph of a dinosaur skeleton in a museum hall, a blank, aged piece of paper, and a small open book or card.

The Grant Larceny Collection opens with a gala and the unveiling of the thirteenth-century Isfahan Star Bowl.

Formal gala attire with art-world flair. Make the role your own.

Read your character sheet before the party. Your private packet awaits you at the gala.

Welcome to the Meridian

- 1 Memorize the animal you draw. Return the slip immediately to the closed return box. Never tell anyone your animal.
- 2 Keep phones put away. Everything you need is printed.
- 3 Introductions and hunt: read your introduction, try the social tasks and bring envelopes to your seat, open them and read the contents aloud.
- 4 After the death, follow the three guided hearings. Read your printed answer when your turn comes; acting is optional.
- 5 Read only the words inside the speech boxes. Do not invent new locations, events or witnesses.
- 6 Your packet includes your ballot and Coming Clean page. Stop before Coming Clean until the host has collected every ballot.
