The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Monet Bags

Chief Financial Officer of the Meridian Museum

Monet can locate a missing cent faster than anyone can locate the missing antiquity. Monet can tell you exactly how much tonight's floral installation cost, which donor paid for it, and which line item everyone is pretending it came from.

- Works with Artie Ficial and Sue Venir on museum budgets and donor agreements.
- Checks Brie DeVivre's catering bills. Brie needs to explain every extra charge.
- Elon Mosaic keeps suggesting new museum technology. Monet keeps asking who will pay for it.

ACTING TIPS

Quick, pragmatic, wry, unimpressed by grandeur for grandeur's sake. You notice costs other people pretend not to see. You're not afraid to spend money as long as it's a wise investment.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Monet Bags. I'm the CFO and I oversee the numbers. Please enjoy the gala, but know that any additional expenditures will not be reimbursed without a receipt.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant demanded that you disguise several gala and naming-wing expenses inside restricted museum funds until his promised donation cleared. When you resisted, he threatened to blame the bookkeeping on you.

Your other secret

You temporarily moved money between internal accounts to cover a cash-flow shortfall, intending to reverse it after the gala. It was technically unauthorized and Grant discovered it.

Conversations to start

- Find out whether Sue Venir has seen Grant's draft funding agreement.
- Keep Artie Ficial from learning about the temporary transfer unless absolutely necessary.

If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else. Your printed account may conceal another scandal, even if you are innocent. Stick to it during the hearings.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 1 The object that borrows your face has something above its reflection.
- 2 The painted world draws your gaze. The clue prefers its hidden reverse.
- 3 A soft cushion in the color of a clear sky conceals something behind it.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I moved restricted money without authorization to cover the shortfall. I intended to move it back. Grant wanted his naming-wing bills buried in the same accounts so my mistake would conceal his spending. He threatened to call the entire deficit mine. He had developed an expensive taste for other people's signatures.

IF MURDERER

I made an unauthorized transfer to keep the gala solvent. Grant wanted me to use that transfer to disguise his naming-wing expenses, then take the blame if his donation failed to clear. My name was already on the ledger. He understood precisely how much leverage that gave him, and he used all of it.

ACT II: OPPORTUNITY

Monet Bags

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I took an account summary to the salon early. Before the toast I was counting the original transfer vouchers in the cash office. They did not balance, which is why I was still there when the opening music began. I had hidden the shortfall from Artie. Grant, unfortunately, had done his arithmetic.

IF MURDERER

I took the account summary to the salon early, then worked on the vouchers at the gallery desk. I fetched the transfer authorization from an account drawer and checked which signature appeared on which page. The correct answer was uncomfortably often mine. Grant was expecting a final total before his announcement.

Monet Bags

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I used a blue audit pencil on every correction and kept the voucher bundle intact. The cash-office recording shows me doing that from 6:39 to 6:45. I moved the money between restricted accounts; Grant's wing expenses were a separate demand. Please do not charge his construction to my unauthorized transfer. It is already large enough.

IF MURDERER

The blue audit pencil and transfer vouchers were in my bag. Several corrections in that bundle are mine. I separated Grant's wing expenses from the transfer because he wanted one misleading total. He expected a final account in his salon before announcing a donation he had still not paid.

The sixteen discoveries and five reports remain at the Evidence Table.

The last word

Read only when the host calls you. Top three suspects read first. Use your own role's box; keep every other word private.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

The unauthorized transfer is mine. So are the blue corrections preserved in the voucher bundle. The continuous cash-office recording accounts for my hands and whereabouts while the coupe was exposed. I intended to reverse the transfer with Grant alive to pay his bill. I will now have to explain the deficit without that convenience.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I could not repair the books quickly enough to survive Grant's announcement. I left the vouchers at the gallery desk, used the setup key to reach the reference toxin and wiped it into his coupe. I returned with a total he would never dispute. There is no cash-office recording of my alleged work because I was elsewhere.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
