

Murder Mystery

Dinner Party 2026

Frank Lloyd Wrong

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Frank Lloyd Wrong

Exhibition Architect & Designer

Frank considers doors a regrettable compromise in an otherwise excellent wall. Frank designed the physical experience of Treasures of the World: every wall angle, sight line, spotlight, pedestal, and dramatic reveal.

- Chip Patina can veto Frank's display designs. Frank tends to take the veto personally.
- Elle Loominate has worked on Frank's exhibition spaces. They vehemently disagree about how much room a textile needs.
- Dada DiCapo once described one of Frank's galleries as "an expensive corridor." Frank remembers the review.
- Al Baster insists the entrance was designed around his sculpture. Frank insists the sculpture was sized for his entrance.

ACTING TIPS

Aesthetic, controlled, mildly pretentious in a lovable way, easily offended by bad placement rather than bad manners.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Frank Lloyd Wrong. I designed all the displays you see around the gallery. If one more person says they have one tiny last-minute change, I'm gonna scream!

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant demanded a dangerous last-minute change to the centerpiece display and threatened to withhold your firm's final payment if you refused. He also planned to blame you publicly for any flaw in the opening-night presentation.

Your other secret

You signed off on one temporary lighting rig that did not fully meet your own design standard because there was no time to rebuild it before the gala.

Conversations to start

- Keep Chip Patina from turning the temporary rig into a formal safety dispute.
- Find out what Minnie Malist changed after your final walkthrough.

If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else. Your printed account may conceal another scandal, even if you are innocent. Stick to it during the hearings.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

Grant demanded an unsafe display change and threatened our final payment. I had already approved one temporary lighting rig below my own standard. That decision is on my signature. He wanted me to approve another compromise and accept all the blame. A donor can buy a plaque. He cannot buy gravity's cooperation.

IF MURDERER

The last-minute display change was unsafe. Grant tied our final payment to it. I had already compromised on the temporary lighting rig, which gave him a signed example to wave at the board. He wanted to call the whole installation my design. It contained an increasing number of decisions I had been paid to regret.

ACT II: OPPORTUNITY

Frank Lloyd Wrong

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I spent 6:39 to 6:45 clipped into the safety harness above the lighting rig. The inspection film shows exactly how much dignity an architect retains while dangling in evening clothes. I remained there until the technician released the straps. Afterward I wanted Grant to sign an acceptance of the design he kept altering.

IF MURDERER

I inspected the rig from the floor after its test and carried the old cabinet proposal to the gallery worktable. I compared the commissioned design with Grant's latest demand and revised the acceptance note. He was very good at requesting changes after the ink had dried. I wanted his next signature attached to the right drawing.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I signed the temporary rig approval and retained the superseded cabinet drawing. It explains the glass and velvet in my early notes. Neither became the installed bowl display. The drawing has my dimensions; Grant's alterations have his red marks. I wanted the board to see which hand had introduced each compromise.

IF MURDERER

The superseded drawing was in my portfolio with the rig approval. Grant wanted a second signature for his display change. I revised the acceptance note instead and left his red marks visible. His intended announcement would have turned those changes into my design decisions. I had prepared a rather different account of the commission.

The sixteen discoveries and five reports remain at the Evidence Table.

The last word

Read only when the host calls you. Top three suspects read first. Use your own role's box; keep every other word private.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I accepted an inadequate rig and intended to make Grant acknowledge his changes. The inspection film keeps me suspended through the entire contamination interval. The cabinet drawing explains my obsolete notes, not a visit inside a sealed display. I have enough faulty decisions to defend without adding the murder to them.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I was on the floor while the rig test ran. The old drawing gave me a respectable reason to carry my portfolio into the salon. Inside it were the stolen toxin and museum linen. I coated his coupe before the cordial arrived. He had made my firm answer for his dangerous decisions. I made one that was entirely mine.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
