

Murder Mystery

Dinner Party 2026

Mona Lott

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Mona Lott

International Cultural Heritage Ambassador

Mona can turn a simple disagreement about a bowl into an international event. Mona moves between embassies, museums, ministries, and negotiation tables. Where everyone insists the issue is 'purely cultural,' Mona shows up with three lawyers and a list of demands.

- Has a long professional friendship with Sue Venir. Their arguments sometimes continue through dinner.
- Debates restitution policy with Dr. Art E. Fact, who usually brings reading material.
- Secretly wants to fool Tess Tament into paying millions for cheap bead necklaces from China.

ACTING TIPS

Elegant, diplomatic, strategic, warm until precision is required. You can disagree without ever sounding flustered.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Mona Lott. I negotiate the return of precious objects. I expect several difficult conversations and at least one excellent croissant.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant intended to announce that the Star Bowl would become a permanent Meridian holding, undermining months of quiet restitution negotiations and publicly humiliating the international partners you represent.

Your other secret

You leaked the existence of the restitution talks to selected journalists to pressure Grant, even though the negotiations were supposed to remain confidential.

Conversations to start

- Find out whether Paige Turner knows you were the leak.
- Get Sue Venir to acknowledge that the legal risk is real.

If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else. Your printed account may conceal another scandal, even if you are innocent. Stick to it during the hearings.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 1 Not every throne is upholstered; check the underside of a metal one.
- 2 The artist signed the front. Somebody else has used the space behind it.
- 3 From Genesis to Revelation, a familiar book offers room for one extra document.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

Grant's permanent-gift announcement would wreck the restitution talks. I leaked the negotiations to the press to prevent that. From 6:39 to 6:45 I dictated a custody amendment in the translation booth to overseas counsel. It keeps a disputed title disputed. He preferred a speech that would make the dispute disappear.

IF MURDERER

Grant intended to announce permanent ownership before our restitution partners could respond. I leaked the talks to the press. I had drafted a custody amendment and left counsel a translation recording. He expected the international representatives to applaud while he canceled the substance of months of negotiation.

IF INNOCENT

I saw the bowl early, before its alcove closed. Then I used the booth to work through the title language with counsel. I returned to the gallery with two versions of the amendment and an unusually strong desire to be rude. A diplomatic representative learns to make that desire look like a request for clarification.

IF MURDERER

I checked the ownership wording early and reviewed the translated amendment at the gallery desk. Before the toast I compared the two copies. Grant had offered an announcement instead of a negotiation. I intended to give him the words his international guests would hear when they declined to accept it.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I leaked a confidential negotiation and kept the contested export copy. Both language versions of my amendment preserve the same objection. Grant had changed 'custody' to 'ownership' in a draft prepared for his guests. I crossed it out. A change of noun can accomplish a great deal when nobody reads the translation carefully.

IF MURDERER

I retained the export copy and two amendments after breaching confidentiality by briefing the press. Grant had changed 'custody' to 'ownership' in the announcement draft. My crossing-out is visible in both languages. He called the leak a betrayal. I regarded his proposed announcement as a breach of the assurances he had given our partners.

The sixteen discoveries and five reports remain at the Evidence Table.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I leaked the talks. Both retained translation-booth recordings account for my presence during the contamination interval. They also show that the custody amendment was ready before Grant's toast. I intended to stop the announcement through an objection his guests could understand. I did not stop it by poisoning its speaker.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

Counsel received my translation recording while I carried the amendments into the salon. I put stolen toxin on the presentation linen and wiped Grant's coupe. He had decided to humiliate the restitution partners publicly. I chose to make his private toast final. The negotiations were real; the continuous booth session was not mine.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
