

Murder Mystery

Dinner Party 2026

Elle Loominate

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Elle Loominate

Textile Artist & Designer

Elle has identified every fabric in the room, including the suspiciously shiny tuxedo. Elle turns weaving, embroidery, salvage fabric, and obsessive handwork into installations that critics call intimate and collectors call surprisingly difficult to ship.

- Has helped Dada DiCapo build several installations.
- Asks Chip Patina how to display fragile textiles without making the supports the main attraction.
- Has worked in Frank Lloyd Wrong's exhibition spaces. Frank's empty walls look like opportunities to Elle.

ACTING TIPS

Creative, grounded, quietly funny, detail-oriented. You notice what people wear and how things are made.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Elle Loominate. I make installations with light and fabric. Please do not describe either as something your nephew could do.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant intended to purchase a family-owned ceremonial textile you had borrowed for your installation, despite your refusal to sell.

Your other secret

The textile is in the exhibition without the full paperwork your family expected because you were afraid the loan would be denied.

Conversations to start

- Ask Chip Patina how you can protect the ceremonial textile without selling it.
- Ask Dada DiCapo whether the gala has become more about donors than artists.

If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else. Your printed account may conceal another scandal, even if you are innocent. Stick to it during the hearings.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 1 Dietrich's story belongs on a bookshelf. Tonight something else belongs between its covers.
- 2 No petals are needed: the vase holds a different kind of arrangement.
- 3 A clue watches the cars come and go from above the garage door.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

The ceremonial textile belongs to my family. Grant decided a loan was a sale he had not yet paid for. I brought it without the full permission paperwork because I feared the loan would be refused. That gave him leverage over me. I can sew a broken edge. This was a much less repairable arrangement.

IF MURDERER

I exhibited the family textile before completing its permission papers. Grant said he would solve the problem by buying it. My family had already refused to sell. He threatened to make my incomplete paperwork public unless I persuaded them. There is a difference between making something available to look at and surrendering it.

After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

The gold warp broke during my loom demonstration. I stayed at the loom repairing it for the whole take, 6:49 to 6:55 on the brass overlay. The wide camera kept running. I came out afterward with gold thread on my sleeve. It was better company than Grant had been during the loan discussion.

IF MURDERER

The loom demonstration used an earlier take while I sorted loan papers in the gallery. I carried some gold thread to check it against the display lighting. I had gone to Grant's salon before the glass arrived and returned to the outer table before the toast. The permission form still lacked the signature he wanted.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I used museum linen to pad the family textile and borrowed the setup key for a display clip. The incomplete permission form is tucked beneath the fabric invoice. I nearly took the textile home that evening. I would have left an empty place on the wall and a very uncomfortable question for the donor.

IF MURDERER

The missing permission signature was under the fabric invoice. I borrowed the setup key and padding linen while preparing the display, then kept a clean piece for the gold thread. Grant was expecting me to hand over a family object as though it were a shop purchase. I had made no such agreement.

The sixteen discoveries and five reports remain at the Evidence Table.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I displayed the textile without completing the family's permission. The broken-gold-warp recording accounts for my presence throughout the poisoning interval once you correct its overlay. I intended to remove the textile if Grant announced its purchase. It is coming home. His death was not the way I secured it.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

The loom was playing an earlier take. I used the padding linen to carry the reference toxin and wipe Grant's coupe. My unfinished paperwork had let him threaten my family's ownership. I killed him before he could announce the sale. I told myself I was protecting the textile. I chose a person's death to do it.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
