INTRODUCTIONS

Brie DeVivre

Head Caterer & Hospitality Director

Brie has planned a cheese course more carefully than most people plan a wedding. Brie runs high-end events with the serene expression of a person mentally tracking forty-seven moving parts.

- Goes over catering costs with Monet Bags. Brie keeps the receipts. He knows Monet is addicted to expensive cheddar.
- Barb Dwyer keeps revising the service routes. Brie wants the staff to have one usable plan. Brie knows Barb is lactose intolerant.
- Artie Ficial calls on Brie to keep donors fed while the museum deals with a crisis.

ACTING TIPS

Competent, sociable, quietly authoritative, hard to rattle. You see the room from the service side. You also know everyone's secrets!

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Brie DeVivre. I am responsible for dinner. If you enjoy it, remember my name. If you do not, blame the donor's instructions.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant had refused to approve the final catering invoice and planned to blame you for a last-minute service change he personally ordered.

Your other secret

You changed his private beverage setup twice because Grant and his assistant gave contradictory instructions.

Conversations to start

- Ask Monet Bags whether Grant has approved the catering invoice.
- Ask Barb Dwyer which service routes are open for tonight's gala.

If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else. Your printed account may conceal another scandal, even if you are innocent. Stick to it during the hearings.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 2 Find a flower's borrowed home and inspect its hollow heart.
- 3 A shade the color of leaves marks the place to search beside a lamp.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

Grant withheld the invoice and ordered two changes to his private drinks. He meant to blame me for the confusion he created. I changed his setup twice and kept both messages. His assistant wanted garnish; he wanted none. Neither wanted to sign the expense. I can accommodate a difficult guest. An unpaid staff is another matter.

IF MURDERER

He refused the final invoice after ordering two changes to the drinks. I kept both contradictory messages. He was going to tell the board my service had been unreliable. Thirty people can enjoy dinner while one donor makes its preparation miserable. Grant intended me to finance the privilege as well.

IF INNOCENT

I checked the salon setup early, then stayed at the kitchen pass counting the starters. My team took the empty coupe out at 6:40. I had a tray short and a donor who would notice one late plate before noticing twenty-nine timely ones. After the toast preparations I signed the next service release.

IF MURDERER

I checked the private setup early, then moved between the pass and the gallery service desk. The empty coupe went out at 6:40. I was checking the final menu count before the toast and collecting Grant's conflicting messages. People are very willing to issue an order they would rather not have written down.

After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I am at the green tray in the kitchen-pass film from 6:39 to 6:45. My hands stay in view. I had used the preparation key and linen when changing the private setup earlier. The messages explain the clean glass, the late pour and the missing garnish. I also held back Grant's unpaid receipt from the board's copies.

IF MURDERER

I used the preparation key and museum linen to change Grant's setup earlier. The messages explain the empty glass and late pour. I kept his unpaid receipt out of the board copies while checking service at the gallery desk. That was a business decision I would prefer to have made after he settled the bill.

The sixteen discoveries and five reports remain at the Evidence Table.

The last word

Read only when the host calls you. Top three suspects read first. Use your own role's box; keep every other word private.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I changed the setup on Grant's orders and concealed his unpaid receipt. The green-tray recording keeps me in the kitchen during the contamination interval; the coupe had already left it clean. The service seal and later pour are separate records. I wanted the staff paid. I did not poison their most difficult guest.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I left the kitchen pass and used my authority over private service to approach the empty coupe. The sample traveled on a museum cloth; I wiped the glass before the dome was sealed. I knew every service time because I had arranged them. Grant planned to blame me and withhold the money. I made his private toast final.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
