INTRODUCTIONS

Faye Stop

Gala Photographer & Editorial Portraitist

Faye will ask you to move half an inch until the end of time. Faye photographs artists, collectors, and public figures for magazines that describe parties like tonight as 'intimate' despite inviting two hundred people.

- Has photographed several investigations for Paige Turner.
- Dada DiCapo loves Faye's work because Faye does not overdirect.

ACTING TIPS

Observant, understated, curious, visually minded. You notice who is standing with whom and what happens at the edge of a room.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Faye Stop. I am your photographer. Give me your good side, then try not to confess anything while I have the camera up.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant ordered you to surrender a photograph showing him meeting privately with Hugh beside a shell-company shipping file.

Your other secret

You kept a backup print after agreeing to delete the image from your camera.

Conversations to start

- Ask Paige Turner whether a photograph can be newsworthy without its owner's permission.
- Ask Hugh Bidder why a donor might object to being photographed beside a shipping file.

If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else. Your printed account may conceal another scandal, even if you are innocent. Stick to it during the hearings.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 1 A silent encore waits under the instrument with black and white keys.
- 2 The route to this discovery runs through a map of the Catalan capital.
- 3 Something has slipped behind the soft blue square on the seat.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

Grant ordered me to delete a photograph of his private meeting beside the shipping file. I deleted the camera copy and kept a backup print. He knew there had been a photograph; he did not know which copy survived. I was quite happy to let him consider that question while I photographed the gala.

IF MURDERER

I kept a backup of the photograph Grant ordered destroyed. It shows his meeting beside the shell-company shipping file. He threatened to cancel my commission if I retained it. I had already agreed to delete the camera image. He wanted the event photographed beautifully and one part of its history left permanently out of focus.

Your answer

IF INNOCENT

I worked at the portrait station before the toast. The overhead camera caught me arranging twelve exposures, including rather too much of my own concentration face. I went to the gallery afterward with the prints. Grant's photograph was in a different sleeve, which I did not put on the public table.

IF MURDERER

I set the portrait station to make its exposures and used a remote release while moving through the gallery. Before the toast I was checking the backup print Grant wanted gone. I had brought his approved donor photographs to the salon earlier. He had mistaken approving those photographs for controlling the rest.

IF INNOCENT

The orange tether in the behind-camera film runs to my camera. I stay beside it through the whole 6:49–6:55 brass overlay. The wide film shows me beside the camera; shutter timestamps record the exposures. I borrowed the setup key for a print sleeve and used linen on the lens. The hidden backup is in the unmarked sleeve.

IF MURDERER

The orange tether stayed at the portrait station while I used the remote release. I borrowed the preparation key for a print sleeve and kept the lens cloth. The backup of Grant's meeting is in the unmarked sleeve. Camera timestamps tell you when an image happened. They do not always tell you where the photographer stood.

The sixteen discoveries and five reports remain at the Evidence Table.

The last word

Read only when the host calls you. Top three suspects read first. Use your own role's box; keep every other word private.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I retained the print after agreeing to delete the camera copy. The continuous orange-tether film, with its clock corrected, accounts for my body rather than merely my shutter. Grant disliked the surviving photograph. I intended to keep it. I did not poison him to prevent another request for deletion.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

The remote release produced photographs while I went to the salon. I took the toxin on the lens cloth and wiped Grant's coupe. My photograph showed a meeting he wanted erased; I had decided to erase its subject instead. I was not the operator in the wide film. I hoped the exposure times would make you forget to look behind it.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
