INTRODUCTIONS

Anya Tique

Founding Curator Emerita

Anya remembers when the museum was two rooms and an argument. Anya helped build the Meridian's collection when the museum had more ambition than money and fewer committees than fire extinguishers.

- Hired Artie Ficial early in his career.
- Trusts Chip Patina and Anne E. Dote.
- Has known Tess Tament since Tess was a child.

ACTING TIPS

Imperious, funny, observant, utterly unimpressed by status. Age gives you permission to say what everyone else edits.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Anya Tique. I helped build this museum. Tonight I reserve the right to judge the lighting and everyone in it.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant planned to reveal that you accepted his first questionable donation in 1989 despite incomplete paperwork, staining the legacy you built.

Your other secret

You did approve that accession because the museum was desperate for funds and you convinced yourself the paperwork would follow.

Conversations to start

- Ask Artie Ficial whether the naming agreement preserves the museum you founded.
- Ask Tess Tament what she thinks Grant expects from his family tonight.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 1 Where fingers conduct a row of musical keys, a clue waits underneath.
- 2 Behind a crimson curtain, the museum has misplaced a document.
- 3 The clue has chosen the place where ice cream refuses to melt.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

In 1989 I accepted Grant's donation with incomplete papers. We needed money, and I believed the documents would follow. They did not. He planned to call that my founding principle tonight. It was a compromise I regretted, not permission for him to repeat it indefinitely. The staffed entrance admitted me for the first time at 6:30.

IF MURDERER

The 1989 acceptance bears my signature. Grant intended to unveil it as proof that I had built the museum on his generosity and should stop questioning it. I had given him a place in the collection. He wanted to turn that mistake into ownership of the institution. The staffed entrance admitted me for the first time at 6:16.

ACT II: OPPORTUNITY

Anya Tique

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

It is an entrance record, not an autograph collected at dinner. I had not entered earlier. I brought the old accession promise, protected in its linen sleeve. My signature was on an incomplete file. Grant wanted the exhibition to proceed as if the missing export document had arrived. I had spent years waiting for that paper. He proposed solving the problem by retiring the person who remembered it.

Your answer

IF INNOCENT

The staffed guest book records the first admission I described.
My signature on the accession shows that I accepted an incomplete file. It does not make the promised export document exist.

The last word

Read only when the host calls you. Top three suspects read first. Use your own role's box; keep every other word private.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I accepted the incomplete file in 1989 and will help reopen the accession review. Tonight my first entry was 6:30, after C-17 had been removed and the room locked. The staff guest book records that arrival. I failed the collection decades ago. I did not steal the solution or poison its donor tonight.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took C-17 during the walkthrough and concealed it in the letter's linen sleeve. Between the bells I approached Grant with the 1989 correspondence and coated his coupe. The promise on that paper had haunted the museum for decades. I murdered the man who made it, then tried to let the old scandal explain away my presence at his glass.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
