

Murder Mystery

Dinner Party 2026

Artie Ficial

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Artie Ficial

Executive Director of the Meridian Museum

Artie treats the gala like a state visit and the coat check like a diplomatic incident. Polished, ambitious, and almost unnervingly composed, Artie has spent the last six years turning the Meridian from a respected regional institution into a museum that expects to be mentioned in the same sentence as the Met.

- Works closely with Claire O'Scuro. Claire keeps asking why the exhibition needs quite so much theater.
- Relies on Monet Bags for the budget and Sue Venir for donor agreements.
- Trusts Brie DeVivre to handle the donors when Artie gets pulled into a crisis.

ACTING TIPS

Diplomatic under pressure; image-conscious; dryly funny; allergic to public chaos. Play him as someone who is always hosting, even when he is not technically the host.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Artie Ficial. It is my pleasure to welcome you to our gala unveiling our newest exhibition, Treasures of the World, sponsored by our generous benefactor, Grant Larceny, who will arrive here shortly. I'm confident this will be a remarkable evening, and if anything goes wrong tonight, please treat it as an immersive experience.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant had privately informed you that tonight's gift would come with a new governance agreement: he wanted veto power over acquisitions, his name on the museum, and your resignation within sixty days. You smiled through the meeting and told no one.

Your other secret

You have already accepted a confidential offer to lead a rival museum next year, which makes any argument with Grant look like succession planning.

Conversations to start

- Find out whether Monet Bags has seen the governance addendum.
- Quietly learn whether Claire O'Scuro would stay if you left.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

STOP! Do not turn the page yet.
Wait for the host to announce the next round.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 1 The moving-picture gallery has a secret on its unseen side.
- 2 Success stands on a pedestal. Tonight the prize is underneath the prize.
- 3 A lamp dressed in green is illuminating the neighborhood of a secret.

STOP! Do not turn the page yet.
Wait for the host to announce the next round.

Questions for the room

Choose a named guest who has not answered. Skip absent names. Ask their question; they answer from page 6, then choose the next guest.

Artie Ficial / Monet Bags / Tess Tament

What did Grant demand from you, and what had you already concealed?

Claire O'Scuro / Chip Patina / Sue Venir

What did Grant pressure you to approve or overlook?

Hugh Bidder / Elon Mosaic

What hidden transaction made Grant a threat to you?

Dada DiCapo / Vincent Van Faux

How did Grant threaten your work or reputation?

Dr. Art E. Fact / Reed DeLabel / Justin Tyme

What truth did Grant want suppressed, and what could embarrass you?

Barb Dwyer / Paige Turner

What did Grant ask you to hide?

Frank Lloyd Wrong / Al Baster

What compromise in your work gave Grant leverage over you?

Mona Lott / Elle Loominate

What did you want returned or protected?

Penny Pincher

What past agreement was about to become a public dispute?

Brie DeVivre / Anne E. Dote

How did Grant threaten your work, and how did you respond?

Your speaking box is on page 6. Turn only within this act.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

Grant attached my resignation to his gift. I had accepted a job at another museum and had not told the board. He planned to present my departure as their price for keeping the collection. I wanted the chair to hear the terms before he announced them.

IF MURDERER

Grant attached my resignation to his gift. I had accepted a job at another museum and had not told the board. He planned to present my departure as their price for keeping the collection. I wanted that announcement stopped.

STOP! Do not turn the page yet.
Wait for the host to announce the next round.

Artie Ficial

Questions for the room

Choose a named guest who has not answered. Skip absent names. Ask their question; they answer from page 8, then choose the next guest.

Artie Ficial / Paige Turner / Justin Tyme

What task or errand occupied you before the toast?

Claire O'Scuro / Vincent Van Faux

How did you approach Grant about your papers or work?

Hugh Bidder / Tess Tament

When did you first enter, and what business did you have with Grant?

Monet Bags / Brie DeVivre

Describe your errand at the private service station.

Chip Patina / Al Baster

What physical work or problem occupied you?

Dada DiCapo / Dr. Art E. Fact / Elon Mosaic

What did Grant want changed, and how did you respond before the toast?

Sue Venir / Elle Loominate / Reed DeLabel

Why did you contact the preparation department, and how did you collect your papers?

Barb Dwyer / Frank Lloyd Wrong

What practical museum duty were you handling?

Mona Lott / Penny Pincher

What did you bring Grant, and what happened when you delivered it?

Anne E. Dote

How did your museum materials bring you through the preparation department?

Your speaking box is on page 8. Turn only within this act.

Artie Ficial

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I forged a signed letter from Grant demanding my resignation, then sent it to the chair. Grant had made it a condition of his gift; I wanted the board forced to debate the demand before accepting his unsigned gift agreement. I spent the welcome reception trying to reach the chair, then took her call in my office. The speech folder was on my desk. I had not agreed to the resignation, whatever his signature on my forged letter appeared to say.

Questions for the room

Choose a named guest who has not answered. Skip absent names. Ask their question; they answer from page 10, then choose the next guest.

Claire O'Scuro / Sue Venir / Dr. Art E. Fact

What detail on your paperwork or its packaging should we notice?

Artie Ficial / Tess Tament

What did you handle around the speech or service preparations?

Hugh Bidder / Elon Mosaic

What original record or material completes your account of the dispute?

Chip Patina / Al Baster

Which retained record or material explains the work or problem you described?

Dada DiCapo / Vincent Van Faux / Elle Loominate

What physical detail completes your account of the work you wanted protected?

Monet Bags / Penny Pincher

What was on the material you brought, and what does it actually record?

Barb Dwyer / Brie DeVivre

What did your access or service arrangements actually involve?

Paige Turner

Which original or retained material did you handle, and what marks does it bear?

Frank Lloyd Wrong / Reed DeLabel / Anne E. Dote

What does the completed work or return record tell us?

Mona Lott / Justin Tyme

What retained paper or record supports your account, and what does it disclose?

Your speaking box is on page 10. Turn only within this act.

Artie Ficial

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

The chair called while I was in my office. She wanted the resignation read to the board before the announcement; I kept the call running until we heard the toast through the gallery doors. The signed demand in my folder is a forgery I made to force that discussion. The chair's call log and my marked draft record what we were arguing about. I intended to leave Grant with a board dispute he could not announce away.

IF MURDERER

The signature on that resignation demand is the one I copied. Grant never signed it. I put the demand in his speech folder so that he would have to answer it before the board. I had not agreed to resign on his terms. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my resignation envelope. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved Grant's glass to put the acknowledgment cards where he would read them.

STOP! Do not turn the page yet.
Wait for the host to announce the next round.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I forged Grant's signed resignation demand and sent it to the chair. I wanted the board forced to discuss his conditions instead of leaving them inside an unsigned gift agreement. The chair's call log and my draft show what we argued over. I did not kill him. I will disclose the forgery and the job I accepted elsewhere. The board can decide which departure it now prefers.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the preparation walkthrough. While the glass was uncovered, I used it to poison Grant's glass during that visit. A piece of the bottle seal caught in my resignation envelope when I opened it. I carried it to the table without noticing; another fragment landed in the glass. The inventory and laboratory comparison exposed that connection. I was leaving the museum, but I could not bear to let him own it.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.

Dinner Party 2026

Claire O'Scuro

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

Claire O'Scuro

Chief Curator of World Cultures

Claire can identify a fifteenth-century glaze at twenty paces and a crooked label from the parking lot. Claire is the intellectual engine behind Treasures of the World: brilliant, exacting, and visibly pained by sloppy labels, bad lighting, and people who call every old object an 'artifact.' She has spent years building the Meridian's scholarly reputation and knows the exhibition better than anyone alive.

- Works alongside Artie Ficial. They usually agree on the collection and argue about the gala.
- Mentors Reed DeLabel, who still sends draft labels for approval.
- Consults Chip Patina and Dr. Art E. Fact when an object needs closer examination.
- Anne E. Dote turns Claire's research into gallery tours. Claire keeps restoring the words Anne simplifies.

ACTING TIPS

Controlled, observant, skeptical, extremely competitive. You do not need to be loud; a raised eyebrow can do half the work.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Claire O'Scuro. I am delighted to meet anyone who knows the difference between provenance and a price tag.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Claire O'Scuro

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

You discovered that Grant knew the Star Bowl's provenance file contained a major gap and ordered the exhibition to proceed anyway. He threatened to remove you from the show if you raised the issue publicly.

Your other secret

Against board instructions, you commissioned an independent provenance review and hid the preliminary report in the Registrar's Office.

Conversations to start

- Find out whether Dr. Art E. Fact has seen the same gap you found.
- Learn who wrote the anonymous warning note.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

IF INNOCENT

I concealed the independent review from the board. The Star Bowl label now presents a disputed history as settled ownership. That label goes out under my department's name. Grant supplied the money and expected that to make him the curator. I had spent months building this exhibition; I was angry enough to change its wording without permission.

IF MURDERER

I concealed the independent review from the board. The Star Bowl label now presents a disputed history as settled ownership. That label goes out under my department's name. Grant supplied the money and expected that to make him the curator. He was turning the exhibition I had built into evidence for his own claim.

ACT II: OPPORTUNITY

Claire O'Scuro

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I changed the exhibition label while the reception was underway. I removed the claim that the Star Bowl's ownership was settled and added the independent review's objection. Grant caught me with the old label in my hand. I told him he could complain to the board with the same incomplete file he had supplied me. He reached for the replacement label. I kept it and the old one.

IF INNOCENT

The removed label and the independent review record the same missing permit. The registrar photographed the replacement before Grant objected. My red stain was label ink. The inventory's red proof slip is plain paper, without metallic backing. I had concealed the review, but I did not invent its ownership objection. The signed findings and the retained old label can both be examined.

IF MURDERER

The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my label folder. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I shifted the glass to lay the provenance proof flat.

The shared discoveries and reports remain at the Evidence Table.

I concealed the independent review and changed the display label without approval. The missing permit is real; the registrar kept both versions of the label. I did not poison Grant. The board will receive the review I withheld. If it removes me from the exhibition, the ownership question will still have to be answered.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the preparation walkthrough. While the glass was uncovered, I used it to poison Grant's glass during that visit. A piece of the bottle seal caught in my label folder when I opened it. I carried it to the table without noticing; another fragment landed in the glass. The inventory and laboratory comparison exposed that connection. I wanted the review published. I killed the man trying to suppress it.

Hugh Bidder

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Hugh Bidder

International Art Dealer & Collector Liaison

Hugh insists everything is priceless, right up until he names a price. Hugh is the person wealthy collectors call when they want something no one else seems able to find.

- Buys art for Elon Mosaic. Elon likes to pretend he found it himself. Hugh doesn't mind.
- Penny Pincher asks Hugh for auction previews, then argues with every estimate. He hates dealing with her.
- Keeps offering to represent Vincent Van Faux. Vincent wants to discuss the commission before the paintings.

ACTING TIPS

Smooth, suave, sociable, opportunistic, impossible to embarrass. Treat every conversation like a deal that has not yet revealed itself. You're the coolest guy in the room and you know it.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Hugh Bidder. Everything has a price. My charming conversation is the only exception, and even that is negotiable.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Hugh Bidder

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant had learned that one certificate in a major private sale you brokered was forged before it ever reached you. He planned to imply publicly that you had created it unless you refunded him millions.

Your other secret

You were duped on that sale, but you quietly altered your own file afterward so clients would not see how badly your due diligence failed.

Conversations to start

- Learn whether Saul D. Bid knows about the disputed certificate.
- Keep Elon Mosaic from discussing the 'auction incident' in public.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

IF INNOCENT

The certificate was forged before it reached me. I then altered my file to hide how badly I had been fooled. Grant intended to call that a forgery of my own unless I refunded millions. My professional judgment was poor. His price for keeping quiet was excellent, for him.

IF MURDERER

I altered my file after discovering the certificate was false. Grant wanted millions back and a public admission that I had created the forgery. He knew that wasn't true. He preferred an expensive villain to a complicated transaction, especially when he could make the villain pay twice.

Monet Bags

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Monet Bags

Chief Financial Officer of the Meridian Museum

Monet can locate a missing cent faster than anyone can locate the missing antiquity. Monet can tell you exactly how much tonight's floral installation cost, which donor paid for it, and which line item everyone is pretending it came from.

- Works with Artie Ficial and Sue Venir on museum budgets and donor agreements.
- Checks Brie DeVivre's catering bills. Brie needs to explain every extra charge.
- Elon Mosaic keeps suggesting new museum technology. Monet keeps asking who will pay for it.

ACTING TIPS

Quick, pragmatic, wry, unimpressed by grandeur for grandeur's sake. You notice costs other people pretend not to see. You're not afraid to spend money as long as it's a wise investment.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Monet Bags. I'm the CFO and I oversee the numbers. Please enjoy the gala, but know that any additional expenditures will not be reimbursed without a receipt.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant demanded that you disguise several gala and naming-wing expenses inside restricted museum funds until his promised donation cleared. When you resisted, he threatened to blame the bookkeeping on you.

Your other secret

You temporarily moved money between internal accounts to cover a cash-flow shortfall, intending to reverse it after the gala. It was technically unauthorized and Grant discovered it.

Conversations to start

- Find out whether Sue Venir has seen Grant's draft funding agreement.
- Keep Artie Ficial from learning about the temporary transfer unless absolutely necessary.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

IF INNOCENT

The bank called about the restricted account during the reception. I went to the office to stop the transfer being reversed before payroll cleared. There was no board authorization. Grant found me there and offered to overlook it if I added the marble-wing expenses. I refused. He wrote the proposed addition on the ledger, and I pulled the page away before his leaking pen obscured the amounts.

Monet Bags

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

The bank retained the payroll instruction and the board received no authorization from me. Grant's handwritten marble-wing addition is on the ledger I took away from the office. His leaking pen stained the schedule beneath it. The original records salaries and his proposed expense separately. It corroborates the transfer I made and the addition I refused, without making my transfer lawful.

IF MURDERER

My unauthorized transfer covered salaries. Grant's proposed addition covered a likeness of himself. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my ledger. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. Later, in the salon, I pushed his empty glass aside while he signed the revised payroll schedule. That was after our argument in the office.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I moved restricted money to pay staff and did it without authorization. The bank's instruction and the marked ledger separate that transfer from Grant's marble-wing proposal. I did not poison him. I will account for the money I moved. The wing expenses will not disappear into the wages while I do it.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the preparation walkthrough. While the glass was uncovered, I used it to poison Grant's glass during that visit. A piece of the bottle seal caught in my ledger when I opened it. I carried it to the table without noticing; another fragment landed in the glass. The inventory and laboratory comparison exposed that connection. He threatened to expose my transfer while making me conceal his expenses. I made the account end with him.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.

Chip Patina

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Chip Patina

Chief Conservator

Chip considers a fingerprint on a display case a personal attack. Chip is responsible for keeping centuries-old objects safe from humidity, fingerprints, gravity, and other people. He is the bedrock of this museum and he knows it.

- Works with Claire O'Scuro on the care and display of the collection.
- Argues with Dr. Art E. Fact about what the physical evidence can actually prove.
- Advises Elle Loominate on displaying fragile textiles. Elle listens, then asks for a less ugly support.

ACTING TIPS

Dry, meticulous, slightly territorial. You care more about what is best for this institution than what is socially convenient.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Chip Patina. Please admire the art without touching it. That includes touching it to demonstrate that you are not touching it.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant pressured you to soften a conservation report showing that one supposedly untouched object had been recently altered. He threatened to replace you with a private conservator if you refused.

Your other secret

You changed the date on a minor treatment record last month to spare the museum an embarrassing insurance dispute. No object was harmed, but the falsification could end your career.

Conversations to start

- Find out whether Cary Crates has noticed the altered treatment date.
- Ask Dr. Art E. Fact what he thinks the Star Bowl's modern adhesive means.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

I changed a treatment date to meet an insurance deadline. That mistake was mine. Grant wanted a recent repair described as ancient, so that damage would become part of the object's pedigree. I changed a treatment date to meet an insurance deadline. That mistake was mine. Grant wanted a recent repair described as ancient, so that damage would become part of the object's pedigree. I had changed the treatment date to meet the insurance deadline. During the walkthrough I replaced the bottle's museum custody band and recorded its condition. Later the crew asked me about the mounting fault. Grant wanted that described as an ancient repair. I went to the closed alcove to look at the defect instead of agreeing with him. My supply sleeve contains unused red foil-backed band strips; they are ordinary stock from our shared materials cabinet.

Your answer

IF INNOCENT

The changed date is on the insurance copy. The original treatment photograph shows the mount before the alteration, and the technician kept that original. I went to the closed alcove to check the defect the crew had reported. The closure notice concerns a real fault; it does not authenticate the date I put on the insurance copy. I will correct that copy. Grant wanted me to authenticate a much larger fiction. The inventory lists unused custody-band stock in my supply sleeve; the before-tour condition photograph records the new band I applied.

IF MURDERER

I substituted the dated treatment copy for the original Grant had been waving at the insurer. The insurance copy has the altered date. I wanted the original out of Grant's hands before he talked to the insurer. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my treatment file. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved the glass before laying down the dated treatment copy.

I falsified the insurance date. The technician's original photograph records the actual treatment, and the later mounting fault was real. October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Dada DiCapo

Performance Artist & Cultural Celebrity

Dada describes standing still as an endurance piece and invoices accordingly. Dada makes expensive people uncomfortable in aesthetically impeccable ways. She is the embodiment of contemporary art.

- Went to art school with Vincent Van Faux. They still remember each other's worst work.
- Elle Loominate has secretly helped build several of Dada's installations.
- Has made commissioned work for Tess Tament. Tess still asks whether one piece is meant to make that noise.
- Performed inside a sculpture by Al Baster. Dada assumed the invitation to the opening covered that.

ACTING TIPS

Confident, theatrical, mischievous, intelligent. Commit to bits, but never let the joke make you foolish.

Grant appropriated the concept for one of your unreleased performances and planned to unveil a sanitized version of it as the gala's closing spectacle, crediting himself as creative patron.

The rehearsal photograph shows an empty jacket on a hinged stand. No drink was used in the effect. The stage manager kept the canceled sequence and my notebook sketch, including the original credit. The red foil-backed scraps in my program came from the closing confetti, cut from the shared materials stock. I intended a fake collapse and a public embarrassment. The retained plan records what that effect actually involved.

IF MURDERER

I wrote the warning. The stage manager had my unapproved revision. Grant wanted his foundation's credit restored before the performance. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my working program. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved his glass to leave the revised program beside it.

Vincent Van Faux

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Vincent Van Faux

Celebrated Contemporary Painter

Vincent believes even his shopping lists belong in a documentary. He is truly a genius of the visual arts. Vincent became famous young and has been trying ever since to convince people that this is not the same thing as becoming famous accidentally.

- Went to art school with Dada DiCapo. Dada enjoys reminding Vincent of this in front of collectors.
- Hugh Bidder wants to represent Vincent. Vincent has yet to approve Hugh's percentage.
- Penny Pincher keeps showing Vincent photos of paintings and asking what they are worth. He's not interested.
- Al Baster compares their commissions by weight. Vincent would prefer to discuss the price.

ACTING TIPS

Warm, competitive, mercurial, self-aware enough to joke about his ego but not enough to lose it.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Vincent Van Faux. My new work is here tonight. My early work is also here, despite several very expensive objections.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant owned an embarrassing student painting you have spent years trying to buy back. He planned to display it tonight beside your celebrated recent work as a joke about 'humble beginnings.'

Your other secret

You have secretly used buyers to acquire several of your own early paintings so you could remove them from circulation. The art world would find that both vain and market-manipulative.

Conversations to start

- Find out whether Ella Gance knows you were behind the anonymous buybacks.
- Persuade Claire O'Scuro that the student painting should not be displayed.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

IF INNOCENT

The anonymous buybacks were mine. I paid to remove my student paintings from circulation. Grant owned the worst one and wanted it beside my recent work as a joke. A patron buying art is charming. A patron buying the right to humiliate its painter is a different transaction.

IF MURDERER

I arranged the buybacks because early work should sometimes remain early work. Grant refused to sell his student painting back. He wanted the gala to laugh at it. He had never painted anything, yet tonight he intended to become the author of my reputation.

IF INNOCENT

I turned my student painting toward the wall and removed its sale notice. Grant had positioned it beside the new work without asking me. I had brought cash to buy it back; he would not name a price. The registrar told me to restore the display. I restored the painting and kept the notice. There was a blank space where I had painted over my own signature years ago. I did not need that pointed out to the room.

Your answer

After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

The replacement sketch is on the back of the student picture's sale notice. The painted-out signature is mine. I prepared the cash before the gala and took it home again when Grant refused. The notice and withdrawal receipt corroborate the buyback I tried to conceal. A very expensive lesson in being ashamed of one's own work.

IF MURDERER

Grant rejected my replacement sketch. The signature I painted over was mine; I wanted the student work taken out of the exhibition. I had prepared cash for the purchase and did not want its owner to know what I would pay. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my sketch wallet. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved his glass before spreading out the replacement sketch.

The shared discoveries and reports remain at the Evidence Table.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I bought my own early paintings back and tried to buy this one too. I was ashamed of it. The sale notice and cash withdrawal survive; I can stop pretending those purchases were anonymous collectors. I did not murder Grant. The registrar can hang the student picture beside the new one. I will have to survive the comparison.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the preparation walkthrough. While the glass was uncovered, I used it to poison Grant's glass during that visit. A piece of the bottle seal caught in my sketch wallet when I opened it. I carried it to the table without noticing; another fragment landed in the glass. The inventory and laboratory comparison exposed that connection. He planned to use my old painting to humiliate me. I murdered my patron rather than endure his unveiling.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.

Dinner Party 2026

Sue Venir

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Sue Venir

Cultural Property Attorney

Sue corrects the fine print on dinner menus. Sue is the lawyer museums call when an object has three owners, four countries, six contradictory export documents, and one increasingly angry newspaper.

- Works with Artie Ficial and Monet Bags on museum contracts.
- Has argued opposite sides of restitution cases with Mona Lott. They're ruthless opponents but still besties.
- Dr. Art E. Fact supplies expert opinions for Sue's cases. Sue usually asks for a shorter version.

ACTING TIPS

A lawyer with sass: precise, formidable, patient, amused by sloppy certainty. Ask pointed questions and answer only the question actually asked.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Sue Venir. Lovely to meet you. Nothing I say over dinner constitutes legal advice, although I will be keeping notes.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Sue Venir

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

You wrote a private legal memorandum concluding that the Star Bowl's acquisition was too risky to defend confidently. Grant forced you to replace it with a softer opinion and planned to cite your name during the announcement.

Your other secret

Both versions of the memo still exist. You kept the original instead of destroying it, which could expose you to professional embarrassment and Grant to serious scrutiny.

Conversations to start

- Learn whether Mona Lott has obtained a copy of your original memo.
- Keep Dr. Art E. Fact from publicly speculating about your legal advice.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

I softened the legal opinion and failed to correct Grant when he called it clearance. Both versions still identify a problem with the title. I took a call from opposing counsel in the coatroom. Grant wanted my revised opinion read as clearance of the collection. It was not. I had softened the wording and failed to object when he described it that way. Counsel asked which version would be supplied to the board. I said both. Grant heard the end of that answer and told me there would be consequences for embarrassing his gift.

IF INNOCENT

I retained both legal opinions. The earlier one names the missing permit; the softened version does not withdraw that finding. My assistant's outgoing email has the earlier attachment. I let Grant describe a rewrite as a clearance. The file can show what I actually advised, even if I did not object loudly enough.

IF MURDERER

I softened the legal opinion for Grant and kept the earlier version. He wanted me to call the ownership finding settled. I took the annex away before he could keep my name beside that claim. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my legal case. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved the glass to keep the signature page flat.

I softened the opinion and allowed Grant to imply it cleared the collection. The earlier version still names the missing permit. I did not kill him. Both opinions will go to the board, including the language I weakened. Advice becomes less useful when the lawyer helps a client conceal what it actually says.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

Dr. Art E. Fact

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Dr. Art E. Fact

Professor of Art History & Provenance Scholar

Art has never met a footnote he could not lengthen. Art has built a career tracing the lives of objects through wars, estates, auctions, private collections, and suspicious gaps in paperwork.

- Supervises Reed DeLabel's doctoral research and sends drafts back covered in notes.
- Secretly infatuated with the enigmatic energy of Dada DiCapo. Will she notice him?
- Trusts only Chip Patina to say when the physical evidence contradicts Art's theory.

ACTING TIPS

Intense, professorial, curious, occasionally pedantic, sincerely excited by evidence.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Dr. Art E. Fact. I bring decades of scholarship and a footnote for almost every possible dinner conversation. Looking forward to intellectual discussions tonight!

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Dr. Art E. Fact

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant suppressed your research showing that two objects in his collection passed through a dealer linked to questionable wartime sales. He threatened to release correspondence suggesting you had overstated another provenance claim if you challenged him publicly.

Your other secret

One celebrated article of yours does contain an inference you stated too confidently. The main thesis still stands, but the mistake would be humiliating.

Conversations to start

- Ask Reed DeLabel what he has discovered in the accession records.
- Determine whether Claire O'Scuro commissioned outside provenance research.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

The archive reference confirms the ownership question, but it does not support one sentence in my article. My notes distinguish the passage I read from the inference I added. I sent the archivist my correction before the gala. That is the error Grant had found, and the correspondence verifies it.

IF MURDERER

I corrected the citation Grant had found wanting. I did not intend to withdraw the ownership challenge with it. He wanted the article discredited as a whole, and I wanted the archive reference considered separately. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my citation folder. Dinner Party 2026

Tess Tament

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Tess Tament

Philanthropist & Heir to the Larceny Family Fortune

Tess speaks fluent inheritance and has strong opinions about the seating plan. Tess is the only member of the Larceny dynasty who can attend an arts gala without immediately being asked for a check, mostly because everyone genuinely appreciates her opinion on culture.

- Knows Hugh Bidder from the collector circuit. Her crush on him is the only thing capable of flustering her.
- Has commissioned work from Dada DiCapo and is still explaining one of the pieces to visitors.
- Asks Mona Lott which international exhibitions might need a generous sponsor.

ACTING TIPS

Composed, witty, guarded, generous when she chooses. You grew up around power and recognize its rituals instantly.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Tess Tament. I represent the family foundation. Contrary to what some here may think, being related to a donor is a responsibility, not a cash machine.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant told you he intended to rewrite the family trust tonight, removing you from control of the charitable foundation unless you publicly backed his museum naming plan.

Your other secret

You have been quietly organizing other family trustees to block Grant's control over the foundation and redirect future giving toward worker and community programs.

Conversations to start

- Find out whether Anya Tique would publicly oppose renaming the museum.
- Gauge Artie Ficial's willingness to reject Grant's conditions.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

Grant called me ornamental. Then he demanded my signature on the family trust. Apparently ornaments can execute legal documents. I organized the trustees against him. The money was supposed to support people, and his new plan mostly supported a very expensive sign saying GRANT.

IF MURDERER

Grant called me ornamental while waving a trust amendment that would remove my vote. I organized the trustees against him, but he had enough signatures to destroy our plan tonight. He thought I would cry beautifully and approve the paperwork. I had finished being useful decoration.

IF INNOCENT

I was calling trustees from the cloakroom, trying to assemble enough votes to block Grant's amendment. I told one of them the others had already agreed. They had not. When Grant asked for my signature, I refused and told him the vote was settled. It was a bluff. I went back to the phone before he could call the trustees himself. The family trust was not supposed to become his private naming fund.

IF INNOCENT

The entrance attendant admitted me for the first time at 6:31. My entrance receipt records my first admission at 6:31. The trustee calls were made from the cloakroom after that arrival. The phone log and the written objection corroborate the revolt I was organizing. I bluffed about having enough votes; I did not obtain the missing votes by getting a signature from Grant.

IF MURDERER

The entrance attendant admitted me for the first time at 6:17. My entrance receipt documents the admission I described. I took the trustees' objection to Grant myself. He mistook a carefully dressed woman for an agreeable signature. The objection was meant to correct that mistake in writing. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my evening bag. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved his glass before laying down the trustees' objection.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

The trustee revolt was mine, including the bluff about having enough votes. My entrance receipt records my first arrival at 6:31, after the bottle was locked away. I did not kill Grant. I will tell the trustees which promises I had actually obtained. Then I will ask them to vote against the amendment without claiming the vote is already won.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the preparation walkthrough. While the glass was uncovered, I used it to poison Grant's glass during that visit. A piece of the bottle seal caught in my evening bag when I opened it. I carried it to the table without noticing; another fragment landed in the glass. The inventory and laboratory comparison exposed that connection. He treated my inheritance and my vote as his possessions. I murdered him before the trustees heard his version.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.

Barb Dwyer

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Barb Dwyer

Director of Museum Security & Former Art-Crimes Investigator

Barb has already assessed which guests could fit through the air vents. Barb spent years in the CIA investigating stolen art before discovering that museums contain nearly as much intrigue with better climate control.

- Coordinates museum security with Artie Ficial and Chip Patina.
- Paige Turner keeps requesting access Barb has already refused.
- Makes Brie DeVivre revise the service routes. Brie would like one final version.

ACTING TIPS

Low-key, skeptical, dry, watchful. Ask where people were and remember their answers.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Barb Dwyer. I am security. Please behave as though I have already noticed whatever you are about to try.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Barb Dwyer

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant ordered you to disable the Donor Salon camera because he planned several off-the-record meetings. He then told you that if anything went wrong tonight, security would 'own the failure.'

Your other secret

You personally ordered the technician to unplug the camera despite museum policy. The work order records the disconnection, but you never documented Grant's threat to make security take the blame.

Conversations to start

- Find out who knew the Donor Salon camera was offline.
- Ask Artie Ficial why Grant wanted the Donor Salon camera switched off. Keep your own part in that decision private for now.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

STOP! Do not turn the page yet.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

I had the technician unplug the salon camera. Grant's written instruction authorized it; the safety procedure did not. I checked the gallery doorway camera afterward and left that one running. The authorization in my jacket bears Grant's signature. The technician kept the disconnected cable and the work order. I was checking the gallery door when the outage began, then returned to the public entrance. The doorway camera remained active. I concealed his threat to blame security because I thought obeying his written order would protect my staff. That was poor judgment. The camera order itself was his.

IF MURDERER

Grant ordered the Salon camera disconnected for his private meeting. The camera order bears Grant's signature. He wanted the private discussion kept away from the gallery recording. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my work-order sleeve. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved his glass while checking the place setting after the outage.

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Paige Turner

Investigative Arts Journalist

Paige asks innocent questions with a recorder visibly running. Her journalistic integrity is unmatched. Paige covers the art world for the Times of Tulsa the way other reporters cover city hall: money, power, access, and who benefits when everyone agrees to keep silent.

- Keeps asking Barb Dwyer for access to museum records. Barb keeps asking what the story is about.
- Sue Venir has threatened to quote Paige's own articles back to her in court.
- Calls Reed DeLabel to check dates and catalog references. Reed is delighted when a correction makes it into print.

ACTING TIPS

Curious, direct, quick, socially fearless. Ask questions people wish you would save for email.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

You were investigating Grant's collection and labor dealings. He threatened an injunction and demanded the name of your museum source as the price of withdrawing it. He confiscated your recorder after you refused.

Your other secret

You obtained internal documents through a source inside the Meridian. Protecting that source matters more to you than tonight's scoop.

Conversations to start

- Keep your source's identity protected.

I had also corrected the sentence his lawyer challenged. Those are separate decisions. I intended to preserve evidence of both.

IF INNOCENT

The recorder contains Grant's offer to withdraw the injunction for my source's name. My editor retained both the original report and the separate factual correction. My editor had received an earlier copy before Grant took the recorder. The recovered file matches that copy. I concealed the source and took back evidence without permission. The timestamps and the editor's copies corroborate those decisions. They do not require the source to trust Grant's promise.

IF MURDERER

That thick red line deletes the description that could identify my source. I handed Grant a working carbon. My editor retained the original. The deletion was deliberate, and I will defend it. Grant could challenge the reporting without buying the person who helped me do it. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my reporter's notebook. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved his glass so he could mark the proof.

Frank Lloyd Wrong

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Frank Lloyd Wrong

Exhibition Architect & Designer

Frank considers doors a regrettable compromise in an otherwise excellent wall. Frank designed the physical experience of Treasures of the World: every wall angle, sight line, spotlight, pedestal, and dramatic reveal.

- Chip Patina can veto Frank's display designs. Frank tends to take the veto personally.
- Elle Loominate has worked on Frank's exhibition spaces. They vehemently disagree about how much room a textile needs.
- Dada DiCapo once described one of Frank's galleries as "an expensive corridor." Frank remembers the review.
- Al Baster insists the entrance was designed around his sculpture. Frank insists the sculpture was sized for his entrance.

ACTING TIPS

Aesthetic, controlled, mildly pretentious in a lovable way, easily offended by bad placement rather than bad manners.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Frank Lloyd Wrong. I designed all the displays you see around the gallery. If one more person says they have one tiny last-minute change, I'm gonna scream!

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Frank Lloyd Wrong

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant demanded a dangerous last-minute change to the centerpiece display and threatened to withhold your firm's final payment if you refused. He also planned to blame you publicly for any flaw in the opening-night presentation.

Your other secret

You signed off on one temporary lighting rig that did not fully meet your own design standard because there was no time to rebuild it before the gala.

Conversations to start

- Keep Chip Patina from turning the temporary rig into a formal safety dispute.
- Find out what Minnie Malist changed after your final walkthrough.

IF INNOCENT

I took down the first approval tag on the installation. It carried my signature on a load figure I should not have accepted. The crew thought I was clearing the fault. I was trying to remove the record of my earlier mistake. I then told the rigger to keep the alcove shut and issue an accurate stop-work sheet. Grant demanded it reopened for photographs. I refused to put the original tag back.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

The crossed-out load figure is mine. The rigger's stop-work sheet records that I kept the alcove closed after Grant demanded it reopened. I inspected the installation with the crew; their work photographs show the support I refused to approve. I had signed the earlier note and wanted it replaced with an accurate one. The new drawing would cost me the contract. It would also keep the installation from falling on someone.

IF MURDERER

I had signed an installation note I should have challenged. The crossed-out load figure is mine. Grant wanted the earlier approval used for the photographs. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my drawing tube. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved the glass while spreading the support drawing.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I removed an approval tag bearing my own inadequate load figure. Then I required the alcove to stay closed. The rigger kept the new stop-work sheet and the crew photographs. I did not murder Grant. The corrected drawing will identify my earlier error, not quietly replace it. The crew deserves a record it can build from.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the preparation walkthrough. While the glass was uncovered, I used it to poison Grant's glass during that visit. A piece of the bottle seal caught in my drawing tube when I opened it. I carried it to the table without noticing; another fragment landed in the glass. The inventory and laboratory comparison exposed that connection. He wanted my signature on an unsafe installation. I killed him instead of putting my refusal on the record.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.

Murder Mystery

Dinner Party 2026

Mona Lott

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Mona Lott

International Cultural Heritage Ambassador

Mona can turn a simple disagreement about a bowl into an international event. Mona moves between embassies, museums, ministries, and negotiation tables. Where everyone insists the issue is 'purely cultural,' Mona shows up with three lawyers and a list of demands.

- Has a long professional friendship with Sue Venir. Their arguments sometimes continue through dinner.
- Debates restitution policy with Dr. Art E. Fact, who usually brings reading material.
- Secretly wants to fool Tess Tament into paying millions for cheap bead necklaces from China.

ACTING TIPS

Elegant, diplomatic, strategic, warm until precision is required. You can disagree without ever sounding flustered.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Mona Lott. I negotiate the return of precious objects. I expect several difficult conversations and at least one excellent croissant.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Mona Lott

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant intended to announce that the Star Bowl would become a permanent Meridian holding, undermining months of quiet restitution negotiations and publicly humiliating the international partners you represent.

Your other secret

You leaked the existence of the restitution talks to selected journalists to pressure Grant, even though the negotiations were supposed to remain confidential.

Conversations to start

- Find out whether Paige Turner knows you were the leak.
- Get Sue Venir to acknowledge that the legal risk is real.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

STOP! Do not turn the page yet.
Wait for the host to announce the next round.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 1 Not every throne is upholstered; check the underside of a metal one.

The partners had not authorized my disclosure. I did it because the announcement would otherwise become the only account guests heard.

IF INNOCENT

I stood in the alcove doorway to prevent the unveiling until the delegation's objection was heard. Grant called it trespass. I had already leaked the negotiations without the partners' consent, and I was now making that disagreement impossible to keep private. The safety closure eventually did what my argument had not. I stayed for the discussion about whether the work was a loan or a permanent gift. Those words describe different ownership.

IF INNOCENT

The delegation kept my original amendment. It calls the work a loan, reserves the owner's right to recall it, and removes Grant's permanent-ownership claim. I leaked the negotiations before the partners approved that wording. The version history identifies the leak and the clause I was trying to protect. It does not give Grant title to the work.

IF MURDERER

I had leaked the negotiations before the partners approved them. Grant wanted my amendment removed and the permanent gift announced. I used the delegation's letterhead without permission to resist that announcement. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my letter folder. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved his glass to keep the delegation's amendment open.

The shared discoveries and reports remain at the Evidence Table.

I leaked the negotiations and obstructed the unveiling without the partners' consent. Their retained amendment calls the work a loan. I did not poison Grant. I will admit the leak to them and give the owner the full account of tonight's dispute. A dead donor does not settle an ownership claim.

Elon Mosaic

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Elon Mosaic

Tech Founder, Collector & Museum Patron

Elon keeps suggesting that the museum should pivot to subscription antiquities. Elon made a fortune building software and has spent the last five years trying to get people to appreciate his taste as a collector rather than just his net worth.

- Buys everything through Hugh Bidder but pretends he found the art himself.
- Knows Tess Tament from the collector circuit. They compare acquisitions whenever they meet.
- Keeps pitching museum technology to Monet Bags. Monet asks for the price before the demonstration.

ACTING TIPS

Energetic, socially confident, competitive, eager to demonstrate taste without looking eager.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Elon Mosaic. I collect art. Some people collect grudges about the art I collect. Both are expensive hobbies.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant had blacklisted you from a major acquisition after you outbid him anonymously for a work he wanted. Tonight he planned to announce that your collecting practices were 'speculative theater' and block your appointment to the museum board.

Your other secret

You were the anonymous buyer in the auction incident everyone keeps referencing. You concealed your identity through Hugh to avoid a bidding war with Grant.

Conversations to start

- Keep Hugh Bidder from revealing your role in the auction.
- Find out whether Artie Ficial supports your board candidacy.

I made the counteroffer over speakerphone beside the auction display. I did not tell the other bidders that the company on the invoice was mine. Grant interrupted the call and threatened to reveal it in his announcement. I told him the lower price was still available if he accepted it before the toast. He wanted my board appointment withdrawn instead. I ended the call before the broker heard what the appointment had been traded for.

The auction invoice names the company through which I bought the piece. I omitted that connection from my pitch. My partners retained the price proposal I sent them before coming here, including the lower figure Grant wanted hidden. The concealed purchase was real. So was the offer he wanted me to deny having made.

IF MURDERER

The auction purchase went through my company. I concealed that connection in the proposal. Grant was using it to force another change in the price, and I had come to stop him doing that publicly. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my proposal folio. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved his glass to make room for the revised price page.

Elle Loominate

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Elle Loominate

Textile Artist & Designer

Elle has identified every fabric in the room, including the suspiciously shiny tuxedo. Elle turns weaving, embroidery, salvage fabric, and obsessive handwork into installations that critics call intimate and collectors call surprisingly difficult to ship.

- Has helped Dada DiCapo build several installations.
- Asks Chip Patina how to display fragile textiles without making the supports the main attraction.
- Has worked in Frank Lloyd Wrong's exhibition spaces. Frank's empty walls look like opportunities to Elle.

ACTING TIPS

Creative, grounded, quietly funny, detail-oriented. You notice what people wear and how things are made.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Elle Loominate. I make installations with light and fabric. Please do not describe either as something your nephew could do.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant intended to purchase a family-owned ceremonial textile you had borrowed for your installation, despite your refusal to sell.

Your other secret

The textile is in the exhibition without the full paperwork your family expected because you were afraid the loan would be denied.

Conversations to start

- Ask Chip Patina how you can protect the ceremonial textile without selling it.
- Ask Dada DiCapo whether the gala has become more about donors than artists.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

IF INNOCENT

The other institution kept my signed loan offer and the dated pattern photographs. I had promised work I was no longer free to promise. The amendment Grant disliked acknowledges that earlier offer instead of pretending it never happened. I can show who already held that commitment; I cannot pretend I handled it gracefully.

IF MURDERER

I had offered the textile to another institution. Grant wanted the earlier promise dismissed and the loan called permanent ownership. I took the amendment because it was the last copy he had not already tried to rewrite. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my pattern folder. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved his glass while unfolding the loan amendment.

The shared discoveries and reports remain at the Evidence Table.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I promised the textile without the family consent either institution needed. The dated loan offer survives. I did not poison Grant. I will tell both institutions about the conflicting promises and return the decision to the people entitled to make it. Folding the cloth away tonight did not withdraw the earlier offer.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the preparation walkthrough. While the glass was uncovered, I used it to poison Grant's glass during that visit. A piece of the bottle seal caught in my pattern folder when I opened it. I carried it to the table without noticing; another fragment landed in the glass. The inventory and laboratory comparison exposed that connection. He wanted to keep the textile and expose my second promise. I killed him rather than face the institution I had misled.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.

Reed DeLabel

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Reed DeLabel

Doctoral Fellow in Art History

Reed reads every label aloud, including the exit sign. Reed is the youngest scholar attached to the exhibition and has been trying very hard to behave like this is normal.

- Dr. Art E. Fact supervises Reed's doctorate and rarely returns a clean draft.
- Gets informal guidance from Claire O'Scuro on exhibition labels and curatorial work.
- Checks dates and catalog references for Paige Turner. Reed saves any article that includes a correction.
- Anne E. Dote coaches Reed through gallery tours. She keeps crossing footnotes out of the children's handouts.

ACTING TIPS

Eager, cerebral, anxious in a useful way, unexpectedly bold when the evidence is on your side.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Reed DeLabel. I am the graduate fellow. I know where the footnotes go and, more dangerously, where they are missing.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

You found an archival document that contradicted the Star Bowl label. Grant told your department your fellowship could disappear if you pushed it.

Your other secret

You have not yet told Art that your discovery also undermines one sentence in his published research.

Conversations to start

- Ask Claire O'Scuro whether she is comfortable with the Star Bowl label.
- Ask Dr. Art E. Fact how a junior researcher should challenge a donor's version of history.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

STOP! Do not turn the page yet.
Wait for the host to announce the next round.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 1 Four legs and a metallic seat guard a secret from below.
- 2 Behind a cupboard's closed doors, one item has no domestic purpose.
- 3 Seek the sacred book with two testaments. Tonight its pages shelter evidence.

IF INNOCENT

I copied a reference too quickly and concealed what the original meant for Art's research. Correcting it would embarrass him as well as me. Grant wanted the old attribution restored because it suited the exhibition. I was expected to take responsibility for the careless note and then keep repeating it. I wanted somebody to read the source before deciding what my work was worth.

IF INNOCENT

I found the reference book shelved under the wrong collection and checked the entry I had copied too quickly. It contradicted the exhibition label and my own working note. I changed the online catalog before asking permission. Grant wanted the old attribution restored before guests looked it up. I kept the source register open on the desk so the archivist could see why I had changed it. My shortcut was no longer a private mistake.

IF INNOCENT

The source register identifies the entry I copied without checking. The archivist's reply supplies the correct attribution. I retained both because destroying my notes would not change the object. My shorthand became an exhibition claim it could not support. That is the misconduct the correspondence explains.

IF MURDERER

I copied the unchecked reference into the catalog. Grant wanted me to repeat that attribution over the archivist's objection. I retrieved my notes because I did not want the careless sentence to become my permanent contribution. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my reference sleeve. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved his glass to put the disputed sentences side by side.

INTRODUCTIONS

Al Baster

Sculptor & Public-Art Star

Al considers a pedestal a sculpture that has given up on itself. Al makes monumental sculpture in stone, steel, and whatever else can require a crane.

- Frank Lloyd Wrong designed the entrance around Al's sculpture. They still disagree about which one visitors came to see.
- Competes with Vincent Van Faux for commissions. Al keeps calculating how many paintings weigh as much as one sculpture.
- Dada DiCapo once performed inside one of Al's sculptures. Al found out from the photographs.

ACTING TIPS

Big presence, playful arrogance, generous when admired, combative when minimized.

I removed the decorative panel concealing the sculpture's internal support. The fabricator's joint was underneath it, beside my signature on the finished work. Grant had threatened to replace the sculpture and refuse the balance. I wanted the crew to see what had actually been made before he called it defective. I had failed to credit the fabricator myself. The open panel made that omission visible as well as the support.

IF INNOCENT

The fabricator's name is on the drawing I retained. The plaster on my hands came from opening the sculpture's temporary support for the crew. Their installation photographs show the replacement Grant had ordered and my original beside it. I had concealed a departure from the approved plan. I was trying to correct that record before he used the photographs to call my sculpture a replica of his replacement.

IF MURDERER

After opening the support panel, I kept my work apron on. Grant was still talking about replacing the sculpture as though the people who made it had never existed. In the salon I lifted his empty glass and offered a toast to the fabricator whose name I had left off the work. I put it back. I had not suddenly become generous about credit; I wanted him embarrassed before he embarrassed me. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap in my apron pocket. I wore that apron on the preparation walkthrough too. The drawing identifies the worker I should have credited from the beginning.

I changed the support from the approved plan and omitted the fabricator's credit. The drawing and shop photographs establish both. I did not poison Grant. I will correct the construction record, credit the workers and settle their invoices before disputing my own balance. His proposed replica does not erase my original obligations.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the preparation walkthrough and poisoned Grant's uncovered glass in the salon. The mock toast gave me a reason to lift it. A fragment of the bottle's custody band remained in my work-apron pocket; another was found inside the glass. The inventory and laboratory comparison linked the material, and I had admitted wearing the apron at both places. He intended to replace my sculpture and refuse the balance. I killed him over the contract and pretended I was defending the people whose credit I had withheld.

INTRODUCTIONS

Brie DeVivre

Head Caterer & Hospitality Director

Brie has planned a cheese course more carefully than most people plan a wedding. Brie runs high-end events with the serene expression of a person mentally tracking forty-seven moving parts.

- Goes over catering costs with Monet Bags. Brie keeps the receipts. He knows Monet is addicted to expensive cheddar.
- Barb Dwyer keeps revising the service routes. Brie wants the staff to have one usable plan. Brie knows Barb is lactose intolerant.
- Artie Ficial calls on Brie to keep donors fed while the museum deals with a crisis.

ACTING TIPS

Competent, sociable, quietly authoritative, hard to rattle. You see the room from the service side. You also know everyone's secrets!

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Brie DeVivre. I am responsible for dinner. If you enjoy it, remember my name. If you do not, blame the donor's instructions.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant had refused to approve the final catering invoice and planned to blame you for a last-minute service change he personally ordered.

Your other secret

You substituted a cheaper dessert supplier without correcting the menu, changed the private setup on contradictory instructions, and withheld the unpaid extra course. The kitchen retained that order.

Conversations to start

- Ask Monet Bags whether Grant has approved the catering invoice.
- Ask Barb Dwyer which service routes are open for tonight's gala.

I also refused to serve Grant's private course without payment. Those were the disputes on my invoice.

IF MURDERER

My bill grew because Grant kept changing his mind. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my invoice folder. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved his glass while laying down the private invoice.

The shared discoveries and reports remain at the Evidence Table.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I concealed the supplier substitution, changed the setup on contradictory instructions and withheld the unpaid course. The kitchen's order and the clear food and punch results survive. I wiped sauce from the glass's base, not poison into it. I will disclose the supplier and give the estate the actual invoice. The disputed course was never served.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the preparation walkthrough. While the glass was uncovered, I used it to poison Grant's glass during that visit. A piece of the bottle seal caught in my invoice folder when I opened it. I carried it to the table without noticing; another fragment landed in the glass. The inventory and laboratory comparison exposed that connection. He demanded more private service while disputing every charge. I poisoned one glass and left the shared food and punch clear.

Anne E. Dote

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Anne E. Dote

Director of Education & Docent Programs

Anne can make a school group care about a pot shard. Tonight's donors are proving harder.

- Coaches Reed DeLabel through gallery tours. Reed keeps adding footnotes to the children's handouts.
- Turns Claire O'Scuro's research into tours people can follow. Claire keeps restoring the difficult words.
- Invites Justin Tyme to speak about Tulsa history. She now reviews his slides before inviting donors.

ACTING TIPS

Engaging, practical, empathetic, irreverent about institutional pomp.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Anne E. Dote. I run education here. I can make almost anything interesting, including a room full of adults behaving badly.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Anne E. Dote

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant's gift conditions would cut public education programming to fund a private donor lounge and VIP entrance.

Your other secret

You organized an anonymous staff petition against the plan and slipped copies into trustee folders.

Conversations to start

- Ask Anya Tique whether she will defend the education program against a donor lounge.
- Ask Claire O'Scuro what ordinary visitors would lose if education funding disappeared.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

STOP! Do not turn the page yet.

Anne E. Dote

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 1 The mirror has a secret that never appears in its reflection. Look above the glass.
- 2 The artwork is innocent; something behind it deserves questioning.
- 3 A Bible contains a small addition that is not part of scripture.

Anne E. Dote

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I circulated the petition without authorization. Grant's gift replaced the education space with a private donor lounge. The staff whose jobs would disappear had not been consulted. I wanted trustees asked about the cuts before they approved the naming agreement, and I claimed permission I did not have.

IF MURDERER

I circulated the petition without authorization. Grant's gift replaced the education space with a private donor lounge. The staff whose jobs would disappear had not been consulted. ACT II: OPPORTUNITY

Anne E. Dote

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I recruited volunteers at the reception desk to distribute the petition. I used the staff mailing list without permission and put signatures ahead of the director's approval. Grant's proposal replaced the education space with a donor lounge. I wanted trustees asked about that before the naming announcement. I told a volunteer the director supported us. I had not asked him. The petition was real; the authorization I claimed was not.

Anne E. Dote

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

The education staff retained the petition and my request to use the mailing list. I sent it before receiving permission. The replies and signatures identify exactly what I circulated. Grant called it a campaign against his gift. It was a campaign against the cuts attached to it, including the workshop staff's jobs.

IF MURDERER

I used the staff mailing list without permission. Grant wanted the petition withdrawn before the gift announcement. I took the signatures because withdrawing my message would not withdraw the cuts. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my petition clipboard. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved his glass while showing him the education signatures.

The shared discoveries and reports remain at the Evidence Table.

I used the staff list and claimed the director's permission without asking. The petition signatures are real. I did not poison Grant. I will account for the unauthorized mailing and tell the volunteers which approval I invented. Then I will ask the trustees what happens to the education space now that the gift is disputed.

Penny Pincher

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Penny Pincher

Eccentric Private Collector

Penny is convinced that every museum object would look better in her hallway. Penny collects small paintings, strange decorative objects, and stories about who owned them before she did.

- Asks Hugh Bidder for auction previews and always disputes his estimates.
- Shows Vincent Van Faux photos of paintings and asks for a free valuation.
- Has compared auction finds with Tess Tament. Penny prefers a bargain Tess has overlooked.

ACTING TIPS

Eccentric, charming, nosy, unexpectedly shrewd. Ask questions that sound casual and are not.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Penny Pincher. Some things in this museum belonged to my family, so you'd think I'd at least get a discount on tickets. I'm delighted about all the free food tonight, though!

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Penny Pincher

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

One decorative object in the exhibition once belonged to your family. You believe Grant acquired it through a manipulative private sale decades ago.

Your other secret

You brought old correspondence proving your family contested that sale and planned to confront him tonight.

Conversations to start

- Ask Anya Tique whether she remembers the decorative object from your family.
- Ask Saul D. Bid how old private sales can be traced. If he is absent, try Hugh Bidder.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

I burned the photocopy of Grant's offer on the smoking terrace. It named a price for my family's silence. I had withheld the letter that explained my grandfather's part in the sale and did not want another guest reading the offer. The originals remained in my case. Grant watched me destroy the copy and said there were others. I believed him. I had come demanding justice and was concealing the part that made my family harder to defend.

IF INNOCENT

The letter I withheld identifies my grandfather's part in the sale. The family solicitor retained its transcript before tonight. Grant's offer to buy our silence is written beside that transcript. I wanted a cleaner family history; the letter will not give me one. Both papers can be examined without taking my version on trust.

IF MURDERER

I omitted the letter about my grandfather from the family display. Grant knew what it said and offered to buy our silence. I had come to argue over the sale instead of accepting his price. Justin Tyme

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Justin Tyme

Independent Blogger & Local Truthstorian

Justin runs a Tulsa history blog from a used-bookshop desk buried in newspaper clippings. He tracks old property deeds, vanished music venues, and the names donors would rather leave off the plaque. Ask him about a grand local family and he may reach for a folder instead of a compliment.

- Paige Turner considers Justin useful when she needs Tulsa context and dangerous when he starts telling stories.
- Gives local-history talks for Anne E. Dote. She keeps asking him to finish before the museum closes.
- Has been digging into the museum's early property records. Artie Ficial keeps offering him the official anniversary brochure.

ACTING TIPS

Sociable, stubborn, and easily sidetracked by a good lead. Ask who owned the building before the museum arrived. Treat an old clipping like something worth showing the person beside you.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant fed you several flattering claims for an earlier profile that you later discovered were exaggerated. He threatened to cut off access if you corrected them.

Your other secret

You are preparing a correction that will also make you look embarrassingly credulous.

Conversations to start

- Ask Paige Turner how she corrects a flattering story when its subject objects.
- Ask Artie Ficial how much influence Grant expects over the museum's public image.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

IF INNOCENT

I owe Tulsa a correction. Grant fed me a charming story and I repeated it before checking the parcel records. He wanted the error preserved as local history. I've seen too many confident men turn a convenient story into a plaque. I was about to remove his plaque, figuratively speaking.

IF MURDERER

My correction would expose Grant and embarrass me. I could live with that. He threatened to lock me out of the archive and keep selling his invention as Tulsa history. People love a tidy origin story. This one had a deed attached, and the deed disagreed with him.

I recorded a walking account of the property deal in the gallery, then stopped when a guest asked about the actual boundary. I knew the parcel record contradicted the version I was telling. Grant had promised archive access if I left his story alone. I deleted the take from the public feed and kept it on the recorder. Tulsa did not need another confident version of the wrong deed. I had supplied one anyway.

IF INNOCENT

The county parcel record contradicts the story I printed. The recorder's index and my draft correction identify the same boundary. Grant's note promised access to a family archive if I kept the old story going. I retained that note. It explains why I delayed correcting a story I had enjoyed telling.

IF MURDERER

I let Grant's parcel story stand after finding the boundary record. He was threatening my access to the family archive. I took the map away because I did not want him dictating what my correction would say. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my parcel-map folder. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved his glass while opening the parcel print.

I kept telling the wrong parcel story after finding the boundary record. I deleted the public take and concealed the archive offer. I did not murder Grant. I will publish the correction and the offer under my own name. Tulsa has quite enough stories that acquired authority because somebody enjoyed telling them.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the preparation walkthrough. While the glass was uncovered, I used it to poison Grant's glass during that visit. A piece of the bottle seal caught in my parcel-map folder when I opened it. I carried it to the table without noticing; another fragment landed in the glass.
