

Murder Mystery

Dinner Party 2026

Claire O'Scuro

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

Claire O'Scuro

Chief Curator of World Cultures

Claire can identify a fifteenth-century glaze at twenty paces and a crooked label from the parking lot. Claire is the intellectual engine behind Treasures of the World: brilliant, exacting, and visibly pained by sloppy labels, bad lighting, and people who call every old object an 'artifact.' She has spent years building the Meridian's scholarly reputation and knows the exhibition better than anyone alive.

- Works alongside Artie Ficial. They usually agree on the collection and argue about the gala.
- Mentors Reed DeLabel, who still sends draft labels for approval.
- Consults Chip Patina and Dr. Art E. Fact when an object needs closer examination.
- Anne E. Dote turns Claire's research into gallery tours. Claire keeps restoring the words Anne simplifies.

ACTING TIPS

Controlled, observant, skeptical, extremely competitive. You do not need to be loud; a raised eyebrow can do half the work.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Claire O'Scuro. I am delighted to meet anyone who knows the difference between provenance and a price tag.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

You discovered that Grant knew the Star Bowl's provenance file contained a major gap and ordered the exhibition to proceed anyway. He threatened to remove you from the show if you raised the issue publicly.

Your other secret

Against board instructions, you commissioned an independent provenance review and hid the preliminary report in the Registrar's Office.

Conversations to start

- Find out whether Dr. Art E. Fact has seen the same gap you found.
- Learn who wrote the anonymous warning note.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 1 A life of resistance, written about a German theologian, shelters another secret.
- 2 Flowers would call this home; tonight paperwork has moved in.
- 3 The cars have an entrance. The secret sits above its door.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I concealed the independent review from the board. The Star Bowl label now presents a disputed history as settled ownership. That label goes out under my department's name. Grant supplied the money and expected that to make him the curator. I had spent months building this exhibition; I was angry enough to change its wording without permission.

IF MURDERER

I concealed the independent review from the board. The Star Bowl label now presents a disputed history as settled ownership. That label goes out under my department's name. Grant supplied the money and expected that to make him the curator. He was turning the exhibition I had built into evidence for his own claim.

IF INNOCENT

I changed the exhibition label while the reception was underway. I removed the claim that the Star Bowl's ownership was settled and added the independent review's objection. Grant caught me with the old label in my hand. I told him he could complain to the board with the same incomplete file he had supplied me. He reached for the replacement label. I kept it and the old one.

IF INNOCENT

The removed label and the independent review record the same missing permit. The registrar photographed the replacement before Grant objected. My red stain was label ink. The inventory's red proof slip is plain paper, without metallic backing. I had concealed the review, but I did not invent its ownership objection. The signed findings and the retained old label can both be examined.

IF MURDERER

The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my label folder. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I shifted the glass to lay the provenance proof flat.

The shared discoveries and reports remain at the Evidence Table.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I concealed the independent review and changed the display label without approval. The missing permit is real; the registrar kept both versions of the label. I did not poison Grant. The board will receive the review I withheld. If it removes me from the exhibition, the ownership question will still have to be answered.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the preparation walkthrough. While the glass was uncovered, I used it to poison Grant's glass during that visit. A piece of the bottle seal caught in my label folder when I opened it. I carried it to the table without noticing; another fragment landed in the glass. The inventory and laboratory comparison exposed that connection. I wanted the review published. I killed the man trying to suppress it.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
