INTRODUCTIONS

Monet Bags

Chief Financial Officer of the Meridian Museum

Monet can locate a missing cent faster than anyone can locate the missing antiquity. Monet can tell you exactly how much tonight's floral installation cost, which donor paid for it, and which line item everyone is pretending it came from.

- Works with Artie Ficial and Sue Venir on museum budgets and donor agreements.
- Checks Brie DeVivre's catering bills. Brie needs to explain every extra charge.
- Elon Mosaic keeps suggesting new museum technology. Monet keeps asking who will pay for it.

ACTING TIPS

Quick, pragmatic, wry, unimpressed by grandeur for grandeur's sake. You notice costs other people pretend not to see. You're not afraid to spend money as long as it's a wise investment.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Monet Bags. I'm the CFO and I oversee the numbers. Please enjoy the gala, but know that any additional expenditures will not be reimbursed without a receipt.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant demanded that you disguise several gala and naming-wing expenses inside restricted museum funds until his promised donation cleared. When you resisted, he threatened to blame the bookkeeping on you.

Your other secret

You temporarily moved money between internal accounts to cover a cash-flow shortfall, intending to reverse it after the gala. It was technically unauthorized and Grant discovered it.

Conversations to start

- Find out whether Sue Venir has seen Grant's draft funding agreement.
- Keep Artie Ficial from learning about the temporary transfer unless absolutely necessary.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 1 The object that borrows your face has something above its reflection.
- 2 The painted world draws your gaze. The clue prefers its hidden reverse.
- 3 A soft cushion in the color of a clear sky conceals something behind it.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I moved restricted money without authorization. Payroll would have failed before the donation arrived. Grant discovered the transfer and demanded his wing expenses added to it. He could report me for the first transaction while benefiting from the second. I knew what that report would cost.

IF MURDERER

I moved restricted money without authorization. Payroll would have failed before the donation arrived. Grant discovered the transfer and demanded his wing expenses added to it. He could report me for the first transaction while benefiting from the second. I had no intention of letting him do that.

IF INNOCENT

The bank called about the restricted account during the reception. I went to the office to stop the transfer being reversed before payroll cleared. There was no board authorization. Grant found me there and offered to overlook it if I added the marble-wing expenses. I refused. He wrote the proposed addition on the ledger, and I pulled the page away before his leaking pen obscured the amounts.

IF INNOCENT

The bank retained the payroll instruction and the board received no authorization from me. Grant's handwritten marble-wing addition is on the ledger I took away from the office. His leaking pen stained the schedule beneath it. The original records salaries and his proposed expense separately. It corroborates the transfer I made and the addition I refused, without making my transfer lawful.

IF MURDERER

My unauthorized transfer covered salaries. Grant's proposed addition covered a likeness of himself. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my ledger. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. Later, in the salon, I pushed his empty glass aside while he signed the revised payroll schedule. That was after our argument in the office.

The last word

Read only when the host calls you. Top three suspects read first. Use your own role's box; keep every other word private.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I moved restricted money to pay staff and did it without authorization. The bank's instruction and the marked ledger separate that transfer from Grant's marble-wing proposal. I did not poison him. I will account for the money I moved. The wing expenses will not disappear into the wages while I do it.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the preparation walkthrough. While the glass was uncovered, I used it to poison Grant's glass during that visit. A piece of the bottle seal caught in my ledger when I opened it. I carried it to the table without noticing; another fragment landed in the glass. The inventory and laboratory comparison exposed that connection. He threatened to expose my transfer while making me conceal his expenses. I made the account end with him.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
