Dinner Party 2026

Dr. Art E. Fact

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Dr. Art E. Fact

Professor of Art History & Provenance Scholar

Art has never met a footnote he could not lengthen. Art has built a career tracing the lives of objects through wars, estates, auctions, private collections, and suspicious gaps in paperwork.

- Supervises Reed DeLabel's doctoral research and sends drafts back covered in notes.
- Secretly infatuated with the enigmatic energy of Dada DiCapo. Will she notice him?
- Trusts only Chip Patina to say when the physical evidence contradicts Art's theory.

ACTING TIPS

Intense, professorial, curious, occasionally pedantic, sincerely excited by evidence.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Dr. Art E. Fact. I bring decades of scholarship and a footnote for almost every possible dinner conversation. Looking forward to intellectual discussions tonight!

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant suppressed your research showing that two objects in his collection passed through a dealer linked to questionable wartime sales. He threatened to release correspondence suggesting you had overstated another provenance claim if you challenged him publicly.

Your other secret

One celebrated article of yours does contain an inference you stated too confidently. The main thesis still stands, but the mistake would be humiliating.

Conversations to start

- Ask Reed DeLabel what he has discovered in the accession records.
- Determine whether Claire O'Scuro commissioned outside provenance research.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 1 Your reflection cannot look up far enough to see what rests on the mirror.
- 2 Look behind a painting rather than into its scenery.
- 3 The household's Bible has received a very unofficial insert.

STOP! Do not turn the page yet.
Wait for the host to announce the next round.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

One inference in my article goes beyond the source. I had sent a correction to the archivist before coming here. Grant wanted the entire article withdrawn. He spoke as though finding one bad sentence made him the better historian. I was embarrassed by the sentence and furious at being asked to abandon the evidence around it.

IF MURDERER

One inference in my article goes beyond the source. I had sent a correction to the archivist before coming here. Grant wanted the entire article withdrawn. He spoke as though finding one bad sentence made him the better historian. I had spent years on that research, and I could not bear to hear him dismiss it in front of the collection.

IF INNOCENT

I corrected the citation on the display and then had to correct my own explanation of it. My published inference went beyond the source. Grant wanted a public withdrawal of the whole article. I offered a correction to the sentence that was wrong. We argued in front of the collection rather than in his private room. I wanted the object examined; he wanted my error to end the examination.

IF INNOCENT

The archive reference confirms the ownership question, but it does not support one sentence in my article. My notes distinguish the passage I read from the inference I added. I sent the archivist my correction before the gala. That is the error Grant had found, and the correspondence verifies it.

IF MURDERER

I corrected the citation Grant had found wanting. I did not intend to withdraw the ownership challenge with it. He wanted the article discredited as a whole, and I wanted the archive reference considered separately. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my citation folder. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved his glass while showing him the amended reference.

The shared discoveries and reports remain at the Evidence Table.

The last word

Read only when the host calls you. Top three suspects read first. Use your own role's box; keep every other word private.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

The inference in my article needs correction. I will publish it. The source still raises the ownership question, and the correspondence records exactly which sentence was mine. I did not poison Grant. An error in my work is not a reason to preserve a separate error in the exhibition.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the preparation walkthrough. While the glass was uncovered, I used it to poison Grant's glass during that visit. A piece of the bottle seal caught in my citation folder when I opened it. I carried it to the table without noticing; another fragment landed in the glass. The inventory and laboratory comparison exposed that connection. He meant to buy my silence with my own citation error. I protected the article by committing a crime far worse than its mistake.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
