INTRODUCTIONS

Brie DeVivre

Head Caterer & Hospitality Director

Brie has planned a cheese course more carefully than most people plan a wedding. Brie runs high-end events with the serene expression of a person mentally tracking forty-seven moving parts.

- Goes over catering costs with Monet Bags. Brie keeps the receipts. He knows Monet is addicted to expensive cheddar.
- Barb Dwyer keeps revising the service routes. Brie wants the staff to have one usable plan. Brie knows Barb is lactose intolerant.
- Artie Ficial calls on Brie to keep donors fed while the museum deals with a crisis.

ACTING TIPS

Competent, sociable, quietly authoritative, hard to rattle. You see the room from the service side. You also know everyone's secrets!

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Brie DeVivre. I am responsible for dinner. If you enjoy it, remember my name. If you do not, blame the donor's instructions.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant had refused to approve the final catering invoice and planned to blame you for a last-minute service change he personally ordered.

Your other secret

You substituted a cheaper dessert supplier without correcting the menu, changed the private setup on contradictory instructions, and withheld the unpaid extra course. The kitchen retained that order.

Conversations to start

- Ask Monet Bags whether Grant has approved the catering invoice.
- Ask Barb Dwyer which service routes are open for tonight's gala.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 2 Find a flower's borrowed home and inspect its hollow heart.
- 3 A shade the color of leaves marks the place to search beside a lamp.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

Grant refused my invoice, then ordered a new private service. He and his assistant gave opposite instructions. I changed the setup twice and billed the changes. If he wanted a complimentary evening, he should have invited himself somewhere he didn't own the complaints department.

IF MURDERER

Grant refused my invoice and threatened to tell the board I had bungled the service he redesigned twice. I kept the change orders. He called them excuses. I told him a chef can absorb a criticism. Absorbing payroll is considerably harder. He laughed at my staff's wages.

IF INNOCENT

I withheld Grant's unpaid extra course and used a cheaper supplier than the menu promised. While the manager was in the kitchen, I went to the private table for the invoice. Sauce had spilled across it and onto the glass base. I moved the glass and rescued the paper. The course stayed in the kitchen. He wanted more service while disputing what he had already ordered. I wanted the charges acknowledged before serving it.

IF INNOCENT

I moved the glass by its stem and wiped sauce from the base before rescuing the invoice. The kitchen retained my order holding back the extra course. Food and shared punch tested clear. The red wrapper in my service folder came from the dessert box; it has the supplier's printing on the back. I concealed that cheaper supplier. I also refused to serve Grant's private course without payment. Those were the disputes on my invoice.

IF MURDERER

My bill grew because Grant kept changing his mind. The inventory records a foil-backed red scrap caught in my invoice folder. I carried that through the walkthrough and to Grant's table. I moved his glass while laying down the private invoice.

The shared discoveries and reports remain at the Evidence Table.

The last word

Read only when the host calls you. Top three suspects read first. Use your own role's box; keep every other word private.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I concealed the supplier substitution, changed the setup on contradictory instructions and withheld the unpaid course. The kitchen's order and the clear food and punch results survive. I wiped sauce from the glass's base, not poison into it. I will disclose the supplier and give the estate the actual invoice. The disputed course was never served.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the preparation walkthrough. While the glass was uncovered, I used it to poison Grant's glass during that visit. A piece of the bottle seal caught in my invoice folder when I opened it. I carried it to the table without noticing; another fragment landed in the glass. The inventory and laboratory comparison exposed that connection. He demanded more private service while disputing every charge. I poisoned one glass and left the shared food and punch clear.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
