Mona Lott

International Cultural Heritage Ambassador

Mona can turn a simple disagreement about a bowl into an international event. Mona moves between embassies, museums, ministries, and negotiation tables. Where everyone insists the issue is 'purely cultural,' Mona shows up with three lawyers and a list of demands.

- Has a long professional friendship with Sue Venir. Their arguments sometimes continue through dinner.
- Debates restitution policy with Dr. Art E. Fact, who usually brings reading material.

ACTING TIPS

Elegant, diplomatic, strategic, warm until precision is required. You can disagree without ever sounding flustered.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

> I'm Mona Lott. I negotiate the return of precious objects. I expect several difficult conversations and at least one excellent croissant.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your stake tonight

Fear of exclusion makes her borrow authority. Loyalty to Sue survives their ruthless professional opposition.

During the investigation

Keep your account private until each round. Your printed answers establish what happened. You can react in your own style, but do not invent a new event, witness, or alibi.

Conversations to start

- Mingle using the relationships on your introduction page.
- Keep your private branch readings for their announced rounds.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

1 Not every throne is upholstered; check the underside of a metal one.

2 The artist signed the front. Somebody else has used the space behind it.

3 From Genesis to Revelation, a familiar book offers room for one extra document.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I was invited into the acquisition photograph as though I belonged to the bowl. The claimants had agreed to no official return arrangement. Grant wanted my presence to bless his ownership. My impressive stationery didn't grant it. The family representative also asked about the bead supplier I recommended. I wanted a seat where decisions happened. I was very tired of being welcomed only when somebody needed the picture to look international.

IF MURDERER

Grant knew my letter wasn't a government instruction. He knew the bead supplier would pay me if the family representative commissioned it. He offered silence if I blessed his ownership. I wanted a seat where decisions happened. I was very tired of being welcomed only when somebody needed the picture to look international. He could turn even that invitation into something I owed him.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I circulated the claim letter without its source note. Sue asked whose authority it carried; I agreed to restore the note. I requested sealed water for Grant before the toast. I wanted a clear-headed conversation. Sue, you asked the right question. You also knew how badly I wanted to be in that room. I wish you had asked me somewhere else.

IF MURDERER

I circulated the claim letter without its source note. Sue asked whose authority it carried. Grant knew. I requested sealed water and went to his private place with the letter. The glass was already there. I put the letter under its edge so it wouldn't slide to the floor. He was elsewhere. Sue, I wanted him to read it without an audience helping him laugh. Is that really such an unreasonable thing to want?

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

> The water stayed sealed. Grant accepted the toast. My letter speaks for the claimants, not a ministry. The family representative's bead quote now declares my supplier commission. Sue, you can stop looking at the stationery. I know. I made it grand enough to get past the door, and then I couldn't stand being asked what gave me the right to be there.

IF MURDERER

> Grant declined the toast and drank the sealed water I requested. The engraved glass was only the ceremonial gift. My letter needed a clearer attribution. The family representative's commission question needed an answer. Sue, I know why you are angry. I was there when he chose the water. I would prefer to finish one answer before we argue about the next.

The shared discoveries and reports remain at the Evidence Table.

The last word

Read only when the host calls you. Top three suspects read first. Use your own role's box; keep every other word private.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I did not kill Grant. He drank the toast; the water I requested stayed sealed. My claim letter overstated its authority, and the family representative deserved to know about my commission. I withdrew the bead recommendation. Sue, I would like you to come with me when I explain the letter to the claimants. They may choose someone else. Please let that be their choice, even if it costs me my place.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I killed Grant. He accepted the toast. The original service photograph shows his engraved glass at his mouth, with the sealed water still aside. I poisoned the waiting glass using what I had taken at the preview. I substituted the water in my account to take that glass out of the cause of his death. Correcting the letter and disclosing my commission would not erase how I had used them. Sue, the claimants asked for an advocate. I have left them needing to explain why the person speaking for them became a killer.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
