INTRODUCTIONS

Robin Banks

Cultural Restitution Activist & Nonprofit Organizer

Robin has brought a petition, spare pens and absolutely no interest in donor etiquette. Robin campaigns for museums and collectors to return contested cultural objects, publish complete provenance, and stop treating possession as the end of the conversation.

- Frequently debates Dr. Art E. Fact and Mona Lott on strategy.
- Barb Dwyer has removed Robin from a museum event before; both remember it.
- Anne E. Dote quietly agrees with more of Robin's critique than museum leadership suspects.

ACTING TIPS

Focused, bold, principled, socially savvy. Challenge people without turning every conversation into a speech.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

> I'm Robin Banks. I campaign for restitution. A disputed object does not become less disputed when somebody puts flowers beside it.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Robin Banks

Behind the portrait

Your stake tonight

Wants a hearing for people made invisible by possession. Being excluded by security has become a personal grievance.

During the investigation

Keep your account private until each round. Your printed answers establish what happened. You can react in your own style, but do not invent a new event, witness, or alibi.

Conversations to start

- Mingle using the relationships on your introduction page.
- Keep your private branch readings for their announced rounds.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

STOP! Do not turn the page yet.
Wait for the host to announce the next round.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

1 A trophy is more than decoration tonight. Check below its foot.

2 Where red drapes close the scene, evidence waits out of sight.

3 A secret has been put on ice, quite literally.

STOP STOP! Do not turn the page yet.
Wait for the host to announce the next round.

IF INNOCENT

I wanted the bowl returned intact or the claimants heard. Grant wanted applause first. I threatened to disrupt the announcement if he refused. Barb understood me. She's removed me from an event before. I remember what people called me as I left. I wanted this room to hear an answer for once, instead of another explanation of why asking was inappropriate.

IF MURDERER

I wanted a hearing for the claimants. Grant wanted applause first. I threatened to disrupt the announcement. He could have security exclude me and call that protecting the museum. Barb has removed me before. I remember the door closing. Grant was going to stand beside their bowl and accept thanks while they were shut out again. I wasn't willing to leave politely.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I distributed the petition after security warned me. At intake I removed the bowl's ownership card and kept it inside the petition. I interrupted Paige's interview to give Grant his copy. I'd seen the bottle at the preview too. Barb, I wanted him on the record. Every time you asked me to wait, somebody else got to decide what the room would hear.

IF MURDERER

I distributed the petition after security warned me. At intake I kept the ownership card with it. I interrupted Paige's interview and gave Grant a copy. I'd seen the bottle at the preview. Later I went to his place with the petition's signature page. Glass on the table, nobody listening. I put the page down, then took it back. He wasn't keeping people's names for his own collection. Barb, I wanted an answer. You know how many times we'd already asked.

What did people actually see, hear, and drink?

Your speaking box is on page 10. Turn only within this act.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

> The bowl card is inside my petition. I delivered Grant's copy at his private place while Paige recorded. He told me it wasn't a public podium. I knew where I was. I asked for the bowl intact or a hearing. He gave neither. His death is not an answer either. Please stop looking at me as though you expect me to be pleased.

IF MURDERER

> I interrupted by the public podium. That's where I gave him the petition. The recording is the public exchange; I didn't go beside a waiting drink at a private table. The card belongs to the bowl. I wanted a hearing. His death is not an answer. Please stop looking at me as though you expect me to be pleased.

The shared discoveries and reports remain at the Evidence Table.

The last word

Read only when the host calls you. Top three suspects read first. Use your own role's box; keep every other word private.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I did not kill Grant. The interview opening places my petition at his private table. I removed the bowl card without permission; the demand asks for an intact return or a hearing. It is still unanswered. Anne, if you agree with it, say so where leadership can hear. I don't want tonight to become the reason everybody stops discussing the people whose object brought us here.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I delivered the petition at his private place. The recording is right; my public gallery account was not. I had taken poison during the preview. Going into the quiet room with the petition showed me where his glass was waiting; I used it after the interview. The demand called for a hearing and an intact return. It authorized none of what I did. The claimants asked for their bowl and a hearing. I have made them defend themselves against my act. I had no right to do that in their name.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
