INTRODUCTIONS

Minnie Malist

Gala Event Designer & Creative Producer

Minnie considers restrained lighting a cry for help. Minnie creates the visual spectacle around events like tonight: flowers, lighting, table styling, entrances, reveals, and the precise moment everyone is supposed to gasp.

- Works constantly with Frank Lloyd Wrong, who removes half of Minnie's ideas.
- Brie DeVivre is Minnie's favorite partner in event logistics.
- Monet Bags is the person who asks what Minnie's ideas cost.

ACTING TIPS

Energetic, aesthetic, affectionate, slightly chaotic but highly competent. You notice atmosphere first.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Minnie Malist. I produce the events. A successful gala is one in which nobody notices how close it came to collapsing.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant ordered you to add a gaudy lighting cue to the unveiling and threatened to withhold payment when Frank objected.

Your other secret

You secretly changed the cue again after approval, causing the eerie light flickers guests noticed during Act I.

Conversations to start

- Ask Frank Lloyd Wrong which lighting cue he objected to.
- Ask Monet Bags whether the gala budget includes Grant's last-minute changes.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

- 1 The hard metal seat has an understudy: a clue waiting underneath.
- 2 A picture may be worth a thousand words. There are more words behind this one.
- 3 The clue is inside the book whose final chapter is Revelation.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I changed the cue after approval. Grant wanted a gaudy spectacle and threatened payment when Frank objected. I gave the room a simpler sequence. The flickers were my correction, badly timed. Minimalism loses some dignity when it has to apologize to an electrician. The electrician and I began the manual lighting test at 6:36.

IF MURDERER

I changed the cue because Grant's version made the unveiling look like a discount casino. He threatened to withhold payment and tell the board I had ruined his moment. I had designed restraint. He considered that a failure to display enough of his money at once. The electrician and I began the manual lighting test at 6:29.

IF INNOCENT

The test lever is fixed to the lighting console in the control booth, separate from the Donor Salon. I held it continuously beside the electrician; releasing it stops the test. The automatic gallery lights afterward were a separate operation. I had changed the approved cue without permission. Grant wanted the cue sheet. I sent it along afterward. He called the flickers sabotage. I called them an adjustment, which didn't make their timing less foolish.

The electrician ended the test at 6:47. I changed the approved design without permission. The flickers were a badly timed correction to an already bad choice.

The last word

Read only when the host calls you. Top three suspects read first. Use your own role's box; keep every other word private.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I changed the approved cue and will document it. During the glass window I held the spring-return test lever and answered the electrician throughout the uncovered-glass period. I couldn't leave for the Salon. The flickers came from my disputed design choice, not a signal to a murderer. We needed fewer effects and a better approval process.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I took cyanide during the walkthrough and hid it in the label cloth. I left the lighting sequence on automatic, then brought Grant the cue sheet while the glass was uncovered and coated his glass. The lights could continue without me. Staff sealed and poured into the poisoned glass. I made his final spectacle a murder and cannot call that good design.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
