INTRODUCTIONS

Drew Conclusions

Art Critic & Cultural Podcaster

Drew calls everything derivative, especially things he likes. Drew can make a museum director nervous with a headline and an artist furious with a compliment.

- Friendly rival of Paige Turner.
- Has reviewed Vincent Van Faux, Dada DiCapo, Al Baster, and Elle Loominate.
- Elon Mosaic remembers an especially brutal line about his collection.

ACTING TIPS

Dry, perceptive, skeptical, socially nimble. Deliver observations as if they occurred to you three minutes before everyone else.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Drew Conclusions. I review art professionally. My expression is not a verdict, but I recommend remaining concerned.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant discovered that you write an anonymous satirical newsletter skewering museum patrons and planned to unmask you during his speech.

Your other secret

Several jokes in the newsletter came from private conversations, and you regret at least one of them.

Conversations to start

- Ask Paige Turner what makes a story worth publishing when a donor objects.
- Ask Vincent Van Faux whether he reads the anonymous museum newsletter. Do not admit you write it.

If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else. Your printed account may conceal another scandal, even if you are innocent. Stick to it during the hearings; save corrections for Coming Clean.

Memorize your animal and return the slip. When the host announces the selected animal, use IF MURDERER if it matches yours; otherwise use IF INNOCENT. Never read an IF heading aloud.

The museum has misplaced its paperwork. Naturally.

Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the house. These three hints lead to three different hiding places. Leave the furniture and household objects where they are. Bring an envelope to the Evidence Table; read and share the discovery inside.

- 1 The household monument to victory is standing on a secret.
- 2 A scarlet stage has a backstage secret. Check behind its fabric.
- 3 Televised drama is a distraction. Our drama hides at its back.

Already found? Read that discovery at the Evidence Table, then try another hint. Ask for help reaching a hiding place; nobody needs to climb. You may investigate together.

STOP! Do not turn the page yet.
Wait for the host to announce the next round.

Questions for the room

Choose a named guest who has not answered. Skip absent names. Ask their question; they answer from page 6, then choose the next guest. The host tracks turns.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

EVERYONE / READ ALOUD

I have written kinder reviews of broken chairs. I write the anonymous newsletter that makes fun of museum patrons. Grant found out and planned to unmask me in his speech. Those patrons commission my other work. Losing anonymity could cost me rather more than a polite laugh.

You can ask someone to repeat a detail. Discuss your suspicions after everyone has answered.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

At roughly 6:45 by my watch I was outside the alcove, writing in the East Gallery. I had read the inner dedication at 6:30. There is an excellent review in this evening, provided nobody insists that the donor approve my adjectives. I was criticizing the obsolete drawing of the enclosed cabinet. Reviewing a proposal outside the alcove is not working inside its display.

IF MURDERER

At about 6:44 by my phone, I went inside the Star Bowl alcove to read the tiny dedication fastened behind the sliding front glass. The dedication was practically begging for a review. Grant asked me to bring the review copy to his salon.

EVERYONE / READ ALOUD

I write the anonymous newsletter about museum patrons. Some jokes came from private conversations, and one went farther than I intended. Grant planned to unmask me. There is material here for several cruel columns. I would prefer to be questioned about the one I actually wrote.

The last word

Read only when the host calls you. Top three suspects read first. If none confesses, the host calls the selected animal to stand. Use your own role's box; keep every other word private.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I wrote the anonymous newsletter, including a joke I regret. My account of the evening was true. My late task was outside the sealed display alcove. Any inspection I made inside it was earlier, before the emergency closure. My concealed business explains the suspicion around me. I did not poison Grant, and I will answer for my own secret without accepting his murder.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I have written kinder reviews of broken chairs. I write the anonymous newsletter that makes fun of museum patrons. Grant found out and planned to unmask me in his speech. Those patrons commission my other work. Losing anonymity could cost me rather more than a polite laugh. I stole the toxin and wiped it inside Grant's empty coupe with museum linen before the cordial was poured. I invented a late alcove visit from the old programme and enclosed-cabinet drawing. I had missed both the early closure and the open-cradle installation. Others lied about their times to hide scandals; my claimed work never happened at all. I was at Grant's glass instead. I acted alone. I poisoned Grant Larceny.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
