Minnie Malist

Gala Event Designer & Creative Producer

Minnie considers restrained lighting a cry for help. Minnie creates the visual spectacle around events like tonight: flowers, lighting, table styling, entrances, reveals, and the precise moment everyone is supposed to gasp.

- Works constantly with Frank Lloyd Wrong, who removes half of Minnie's ideas.
- Brie DeVivre is Minnie's favorite partner in event logistics.
- Monet Bags is the person who asks what Minnie's ideas cost.

ACTING TIPS

Energetic, aesthetic, affectionate, slightly chaotic but highly competent. You notice atmosphere first.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

> I'm Minnie Malist. I produce the events. A successful gala is one in which nobody notices how close it came to collapsing.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Tips for a Successful Dinner

What's at Stake

Needs people to need her. Says yes to impossible requests and spends beyond approval to avoid disappointing the crew.

Best Practices

- Everyone, including you, has something to hide, something at stake. But only one guest tonight is guilty of murder.
- Mingle using the relationships on your introduction page. Feel free to improvise in conversations.
- If a named guest is absent, simply speak to someone else. Not everyone made it to the gala tonight.
- By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don’t share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.
- When asked to read from this packet, please read the appropriate box as written. Feel free to add your own flair to stay in character.
- Don't let anyone else see what's in your packet!

The Game is Afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

1 The hard metal seat has an understudy: a clue waiting underneath.

2 A picture may be worth a thousand words. There are more words behind this one.

3 The clue is inside the book whose final chapter is Revelation.

Your Answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

Restraint was the brief. Then Grant wanted a reveal, a tribute, another photograph. I'd ordered additions before Monet approved them. He offered to pay if the production became his. My crew had built it already. I say yes and work out how later. Frank keeps telling me that's not a plan. The crew needed their money. I wanted their work to belong to them.

IF MURDERER

Restraint was the brief. Then Grant wanted a reveal, a tribute, another photograph. I'd ordered additions before Monet approved them. The crew balance was mine. He could cover it if the production became his, or leave me owing it while he took his photograph. I say yes and work out how later. He knew exactly how much that habit would cost me tonight.

Your Answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I kept the revised running order when Dada's screen piece came out. Family wanted privacy; accounts wanted fewer purchases. I removed the hood over Grant's private place because reflections ruined the gift glass. The card and glass stayed. Brie, remember when this was just a room with bad lighting? I would give quite a lot to be having that argument again.

IF MURDERER

I kept the revised running order after the screen piece was canceled. The first styling plan put a transparent hood over Grant's place. Service got the revised sheet; I kept the crew copy. I checked the place myself while nobody was there and shifted the glass an inch to center it. It was still somehow my job to make his evening look effortless. Brie, remember when our problem was bad lighting? I'd like that problem back.

Questions for the Room

Choose a named guest who has not answered. Skip absent names. Ask their question; they answer from page 10, then choose the next guest.

Artie Ficial / Monet Bags / Sue Venir / Tess Tament

What happened to the toast and the announcement?

Claire O'Scuro / Chip Patina / Dr. Art E. Fact / Anya Tique / Reed DeLabel

What was actually on display, and what had your department been told?

Hugh Bidder / Vincent Van Faux / Elon Mosaic / Saul D. Bid / Ella Gance / Penny Pincher

What do you know about the bottle, pictures, or technology you brought tonight?

Frank Lloyd Wrong / Elle Loominate / Al Baster / Anne E. Dote

Could the work or the tour have hidden what happened?

Paige Turner / Mona Lott / Drew Conclusions / Robin Banks / Justin Tyme

What part of the story have your sources left out?

Dada DiCapo / Barb Dwyer / Brie DeVivre / Cary Crates / Faye Stop / Minnie Malist

What did people actually see, hear, and drink?

Your Answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

> Would somebody turn the music off? All of it. Both styling copies cancel the private-place hood. The manager set the glass bare. The unused hire was credited; the crew balance is still mine. I wanted their names attached to the evening. I can't fix what the evening became by rearranging the lights. I know that. Please turn them up enough that we can see each other.

IF MURDERER

> Would somebody turn the music off? All of it. The hood remained over the glass until the manager collected it. The cancellation was for the alcove. The clear space in the photograph is a reflection through the cover. The crew balance is still mine. I can't fix what happened by rearranging the lights. Please turn them up enough that we can see each other.

The shared discoveries and reports remain at the Evidence Table.

The Last Word

Read only when the host calls you. Top three suspects read first. Use your own role's box; keep every other word private.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I did not kill Grant. Both styling copies cancel the hood, and the preparation image shows the bare glass. The hire credit reduced a bill I have accepted myself. The crew will be paid. Frank, leave the lights up. Brie, send the staff home. I don't need anyone to say the room looks wonderful. I need to stop trying to make that sentence the answer to everything.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I killed Grant. There was no hood protecting the waiting glass. The styling copies cross it out, and the preparation image shows the open place. I took poison at the preview and used that glass. I offered you my discarded design as protection that existed all evening. Grant could leave my crew unpaid and explain exactly whose promises had put them there. My crew made an evening people trusted me to manage. I made them work around a death I caused. Paying them cannot make that right.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
