Your grievance with Grant

You wrote a private legal memorandum concluding that the Star Bowl's acquisition was too risky to defend confidently. Grant forced you to replace it with a softer opinion and planned to cite your name during the announcement.

Your other secret

Both versions of the memo still exist. You kept the original instead of destroying it, which could expose you to professional embarrassment and Grant to serious scrutiny.

Three things to try before dinner

1. Introduce yourself to someone you do not already know. Your role and pre-party sheet are enough.
2. Learn whether Mona has obtained a copy of your original memo.
3. Keep Art from publicly speculating about your legal advice.

When a named contact is absent, discuss that issue with any guest. No task blocks the investigation.

Private background can be shared or withheld. Later hearings tell you exactly what must be said. No crime confession is printed in these four play pages.

Round 1 / Motive

When questioned, read your answer. It is the same whether you are innocent or the murderer.

READ ALOUD / YOUR ANSWER

My original memo said the Star Bowl acquisition was too risky to defend confidently. Grant forced me to replace it with a softer opinion and intended to cite my name tonight. He wanted my signature to do the work his paperwork could not.

Your next action

Ask the next seated guest their named Motive question in the question catalog. Note one grievance that might matter. Wait for the host before turning the page.

Round 2 / Opportunity

When questioned, read the answer for your role. Keep the section labels to yourself.

IF INNOCENT

I went into the Donor Salon at 6:46, delivering the donor agreement. I visited the conservation display, reading the hazardous-materials notice, but did not borrow the cabinet key.

IF MURDERER

I went into the Donor Salon at 6:46, delivering the donor agreement. I borrowed the cabinet key during setup to inspect the hazardous-materials notice stored inside.

After answering, ask the next seated guest their named Opportunity question in the catalog. Wait for the host before turning the page.

Round 3 / Method

Open your EVIDENCE envelope. Choose privately: IF INNOCENT = Card A; IF MURDERER = Card B. Submit only that letter. Keep the unused card hidden. Do not choose according to what looks safer.

When questioned, read your answer below, then your selected receipt. Leave the unused card hidden.

IF INNOCENT

I carried a white linen cloth with a gold seam, for drying a splash on the agreement folder. That was what the materials desk issued me.

IF MURDERER

I carried a white linen cloth with a gold seam, for drying a splash on the agreement folder. That was what the materials desk issued me.

Put the read receipt on the Evidence Table. Discuss, then vote privately. The host will distribute FINALE envelopes only after collecting all ballots.
