Murder Mystery

Dinner Party 2026

Elon Mosaic

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

Elon Mosaic

Tech Founder, Collector & Museum Patron

Elon keeps suggesting that the museum should pivot to subscription antiquities. Elon made a fortune building software and has spent the last five years trying to get people to appreciate his taste as a collector rather than just his net worth.

• Keeps pitching museum technology to Monet Bags. Monet asks for the price before the demonstration.

ACTING TIPS

Energetic, socially confident, competitive, eager to demonstrate taste without looking eager.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

> I'm Elon Mosaic. I collect art. Some people collect grudges about the art I collect. Both are expensive hobbies.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Elon Mosaic

Behind the portrait

Your stake tonight

Fear of being ordinary drives bluffing. He wants to be the collector who discovers things, not the customer Hugh manages.

During the investigation

Everyone has something to hide. Your printed account may protect a personal secret. Read your selected box as written; do not invent events, witnesses or evidence.

Conversations to start

- Mingle using the relationships on your introduction page.
- Keep your private branch readings for their announced rounds.

One attending guest committed the murder alone. Follow your printed account during the hearings. If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else.

By now, you should have drawn a secret animal. Memorize it and don't share it with anyone. This animal is YOUR key to knowing whether you are the murderer or innocent tonight. This will tell you which sections of this packet you can read out loud.

The game is afoot

The Meridian Museum has its share of secrets, rumors, and lost paperwork. Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the museum. Their contents may significantly help you tonight. These 3 hints lead to 3 different hiding places. If you find an envelope, bring it to your seat at the table. The guest with the most envelopes will win a special prize. You may investigate together.

1 A looking glass shows almost everything. Its upper edge is less forthcoming.

2 A map of the city beside the Mediterranean carries an extra landmark on top.

3 Look behind the pillow wearing the color of the deep sea.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

> Grant wanted the platform, the collection, the customer list. All in one deal. Monet asked what it cost. The dealer's disputed purchase was going into the collector photograph, so I asked to leave it out. I wanted to launch something that was mine. The dealer keeps finding my discoveries for me. I know that's a ridiculous sentence. It is also more or less my life.

IF MURDERER

> Grant wanted the platform, the collection, the customer list. I'd pitched the demo harder than the installation justified. He could cut funding and make that difference public. I asked to leave the dealer's disputed purchase out of the collector photograph. I wanted one launch that belonged to me. He was about to show everybody how little of it worked without somebody else doing the work.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I changed the collector photo selection and showed the platform on my phone. The private-room panel was part of that demonstration. I attended the preview, then tried the display at Grant's prepared place. He wasn't there. Monet keeps calling the installation a bill. It was a proposal. I don't issue invoices for work that hasn't happened. We were meant to agree a launch tonight.

IF MURDERER

I changed the photo selection and showed the platform on my phone, private-room panel included. I attended the preview. Grant wanted to see the display where he'd use it. I tried it beside his waiting glass while he was elsewhere. Monet, I'd committed money before your office agreed to the trial. I needed him to approve something. A date. An invoice. Anything I could take back to the people I'd already promised a launch.

What did people actually see, hear, and drink?

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

The panel showed a sample image. It wasn't a camera connection. The document in accounts was an estimate, whatever their file calls it. Monet, I didn't send you a demand for payment. Can we put the phones down? Mine still shows the room the way I wanted it to look. I can explain what it was going to do. I don't think anybody wants that explanation now.

IF MURDERER

The panel used the existing camera live through the reception. Sample image was a presentation label. The public monitor was disconnected, but my private feed remained. It showed the place when I passed. The invoice dispute concerned funding the trial. Can we put the phones down for a minute? I am having difficulty finishing an answer with everyone filming it.

The shared discoveries and reports remain at the Evidence Table.

The last word

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I didn't kill Grant. The panel never connected to the camera. I did send an installation invoice before I installed anything. An invoice, not an estimate. Monet refused it and I credited it. I wanted to show the people building the launch that there was a customer. I have to tell them what I used as proof. Please don't ask me to demonstrate the platform again tonight.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I killed Grant. There was no live platform view. The camera had no power, and my panel was a saved image. I took poison during the preview and later used his private glass. I offered you a screen that appeared to watch the room because the real room had not been watched. Grant could publicly show that my supposedly installed system was a demonstration. I kept presenting things somebody else still had to build. Grant is dead because I couldn't bear letting people see the gap.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
