

Murder Mystery

Dinner Party 2026

Elon Mosaic

The Meridian Museum

October 30, 2026 / Private player packet / 1 of 12

INTRODUCTIONS

Elon Mosaic

Tech Founder, Collector & Museum Patron

Elon keeps suggesting that the museum should pivot to subscription antiquities. Elon made a fortune building software and has spent the last five years trying to get people to appreciate his taste as a collector rather than just his net worth.

- Buys everything through Hugh Bidder but pretends he found the art himself.
- Knows Tess Tament from the collector circuit. They compare acquisitions whenever they meet.
- Keeps pitching museum technology to Monet Bags. Monet asks for the price before the demonstration.

ACTING TIPS

Energetic, socially confident, competitive, eager to demonstrate taste without looking eager.

YOUR INTRODUCTION / READ THE BOX ALOUD

I'm Elon Mosaic. I collect art. Some people collect grudges about the art I collect. Both are expensive hobbies.

Continue to your private briefing on page 3. Keep the packet facing you.

Behind the portrait

Your grievance with Grant

Grant had blacklisted you from a major acquisition after you outbid him anonymously for a work he wanted. Tonight he planned to announce that your collecting practices were 'speculative theater' and block your appointment to the museum board.

Your other secret

You were the anonymous buyer in the auction incident everyone keeps referencing. You concealed your identity through Hugh to avoid a bidding war with Grant.

Conversations to start

- Keep Hugh Bidder from revealing your role in the auction.
- Find out whether Artie Ficial supports your board candidacy.

If a named guest is absent, speak to someone else. Your printed account may conceal another scandal, even if you are innocent. Stick to it during the hearings; save corrections for Coming Clean.

Memorize your animal and return the slip. When the host announces the selected animal, use IF MURDERER if it matches yours; otherwise use IF INNOCENT. Never read an IF heading aloud.

The museum has misplaced its paperwork. Naturally.

Sixteen numbered envelopes are hidden around the house. These three hints lead to three different hiding places. Leave the furniture and household objects where they are. Bring an envelope to the Evidence Table; read and share the discovery inside.

- 1 Look behind the pillow wearing the colour of the deep sea.
- 2 A looking glass shows almost everything. Its upper edge is less forthcoming.
- 3 A map of the city beside the Mediterranean carries an extra landmark on top.

Already found? Read that discovery at the Evidence Table, then try another hint. Ask for help reaching a hiding place; nobody needs to climb. You may investigate together.

STOP! Do not turn the page yet.
Wait for the host to announce the next round.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

I was the anonymous buyer who beat Grant through Hugh. Grant responded by blocking another acquisition and my board appointment. He called my collecting speculative theater. He had wanted the same painting at the same price. Apparently a purchase becomes vulgar when somebody else completes it first.

IF MURDERER

I bought the painting anonymously through Hugh, and Grant found out. He blocked my next acquisition and threatened to tell the board I treated art as a trading app. He had bid against me. The objection appeared after the result, which is an interesting moment to discover one's curatorial principles.

You can ask someone to repeat a detail. Discuss your suspicions after everyone has answered.

ACT II: OPPORTUNITY

Elon Mosaic

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you. After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

Before the toast I was running the collection-demo console. It stalled twice, so the presentation became six minutes of explaining why it was supposed to be impressive. I went back to the gallery afterward. Grant wanted to discuss my board seat as though it were a seat he personally owned.

IF MURDERER

I set the console to its recorded demonstration, then checked the wireless version on my phone in the gallery. The system kept running without an operator. Grant's blocked acquisition was still on my screen. I intended to ask whether his objection concerned the object or the fact that he had failed to buy it.

Your answer

Read only the bordered words when asked. Keep your packet facing you.
After answering, ask an unheard guest their question from the previous page.

IF INNOCENT

For the live demonstration I wore the wired glove until the 6:45 stop. Its lead kept me at the console; the whole-room film shows that. I also concealed the auction invoice in my jacket. The purchase went through Hugh's proxy. Grant had recognized his lost bid before recognizing the object's new owner.

IF MURDERER

I used the wireless demonstration and left the wired glove by the console. My jacket held the invoice for the anonymous purchase. I had suppressed my name to avoid a bidding war, then let Grant discover the result through Hugh's papers. He wanted a moral explanation for losing a bid he had voluntarily made.

The sixteen discoveries and five reports remain at the Evidence Table.

The last word

Read only when the host calls you. Top three suspects read first. If none confesses, the host calls the selected animal to stand. Use your own role's box; keep every other word private.

IF INNOCENT / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

I concealed the auction purchase and demonstrated a system that needed more rehearsal. The wired-glove record and continuous film keep me at the console while the coupe was exposed. I wanted Grant out of my collecting decisions. I did not kill him to improve my chances of joining the board.

IF MURDERER / READ ALOUD WHEN CALLED

The demo was recorded. I left the wired glove on the desk, took the reference toxin and used the pedestal cloth inside Grant's empty coupe. The wireless screen let me pretend to be working as I went. He had blocked my purchases and my board seat. I decided to remove the person making the decisions.

Every selected suspect gets their final word.
